MUNITIONS TRAIN BLOWN UP BY R.A.F.

LONDON (CP)—The Air Ministry announced tonight that a German ammunition train was blown up last night by the Royal Air Force.

The third bulletin issued tonight by the ministry said four bombs scored direct hits on the train at Geldern, a German town near the Netherlands frontier, causing an explosion which rocked the bombers.

Canada Offers Planes

OTTAWA (CP)—An offer was made to the British government last Tuesday to "forward at once to the United Kingdom all the planes of a certain type now available in Canada," Prime Minister Mackenzie King told the House of Commons today.

"Other steps of a similar nature which it would not be expedient to describe publicly, have also been taken," he said.

U.S. Nazis Pinched

WASHINGTON (AP)—Without debate, the House of Representatives wrote into the 1941 relief bill this afternoon a provision to deny relief employment to Communists or members of "Nazi bund" organizations.

On a voice vote, the members accepted without a dissent an amendment by Representative Walter, Democrat, Pennsylvania, to abandon the prohibition against relief employment of aliens.

Estimates Presented

OTTAWA (CP)—Main estimates calling for expenditure of $448,055,804 on ordinary account and government-owned enterprises were tabled in the House of Commons last night by Hon. J. C. Ralston, Finance Minister.

Cavalry 6th Column

VANCOUVER (CP)—Veterans of the Canadian Cavalry Brigade said this afternoon they are attempting to form a cavalry unit to be attached to the recently formed "sixth column" of the 31st Battalion Association of Vancouver. The association's "sixth column" was formed for the purpose of combating possible "fifth column" activities.

ULSTER ON GUARD

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Viscount Craigavon of Ulster, in London on the urgent summons of Prime Minister Churchill, announced tonight that Northern Ireland is taking "protective arrangements" similar to England to counter the landing of parachute troops.

Lord Craigavon saw War Secretary Anthony Eden during his one-day visit in London and said the authorities hoped to be able to inaugurate shortly a recruiting campaign in Ulster for all branches of the army.

To Use Veterans

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Rogers told a questioner in the House of Commons this afternoon the government hoped soon to be able to make a statement on plans that may be adopted to utilize the services of veterans of the first Great War.

Recruiting Urged

OTTAWA (CP)—Howard Green, Conservative, Vancouver South, urged in the House of Commons today that "recruiting should be thrown wide open so that every fit Canadian willing to serve may do so," and declared the government's greatest failure was not taking advantage of the enthusiasm and patriotism of those who were ready and anxious to volunteer.

King to Broadcast

LONDON (AP)—King George will broadcast a message to the Empire tomorrow, Empire Day, at 9 p.m. (noon, P.S.T.). His Majesty's message will come at the end of an Empire Day program, "Brothers in Arms," in which all the participants will be from overseas. It will be broadcast on the home, overseas and fighting forces program.

Power Sworn In

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. C. G. Power was sworn in today by Chief Justice Sir Lyman P. Duff as Minister of National Defence for Air. Parliament yesterday passed the government bill creating the new air ministry.

VICTORIAN MISSING

Two Vancouver Island pilots of the Royal Air Force are listed as missing by the British Air Ministry, according to Canadian Press advices.

One is Acting Flight Lieutenant L. F. Jordan, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Jordan, St. Charles Street, and the other, Pilot Officer Seman George Tater, son of George Tater, operator of the Courtenay Hotel at Courtenay.

Lieut. Jordan spent his youth in Victoria, and was known as an accomplished young violinist.

Veterans Armed

TORONTO (CP)—City police revealed this afternoon that 100 stalwart officers, all veterans of the first Great War, have been issued rifles and formed into a flying squad under Inspector Thomas Crosbie to combat any "fifth column" movement here.

It will be their job to break up subversive demonstrations and track down those who seek to undermine the nation.

SHIP SUNK

LONDON (CP)—A Reuters news agency dispatch from Stockholm said tonight that the Swedish steamship Baltica, 1,966 tons, with a German prize crew aboard, was sunk by the British outside Stavanger, Norway. No details were available immediately.

Speed Anti-spy Drive

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special House of Representatives committee unanimously adopted today a resolution for quick congressional approval of President Roosevelt's alien control order transferring the immigration service from the Labor Department to the Justice Department.

The action came less than 24 hours after the President has sent Congress the order and a message saying the transfer would enable the government "to deal quickly" with undesirable aliens. He urged action to make the shift operative quickly.

Eyes on Calais

LONDON (AP)—Alfred Duff Cooper, Minister of Information, tonight told the St. George's Conservative Club that "even Calais may now be in danger."

Subvert Sentenced

SARNIA, Ont. (CP)—Convicted today of a charge laid under the Defence of Canada regulations, Victor Johnston, 24, Sarnia, was sentenced to a month in jail and fined $50, or an additional month. The conviction was the first of its kind in Sarnia.

Johnston pleaded not guilty and said the statement for which he was sentenced was prompted by the "lack of Christian principles among many Canadians."

He said he was rejected recently when he tried to enlist in the R.C.A.F.

Canada Needs 4,900 More Men

OTTAWA (CP)—The Royal Canadian Navy must enlist approximately 4,900 men for service during the balance of the year, it was announced today.

These men are needed to man the 80-odd ships which are now under construction and which will go into service in anti-submarine and other naval work as rapidly as they are completed.

In addition, the navy urgently requires 500 experienced engine-room and stoker ratings, the announcement said. These men should possess some engine-room experience and will be rated according to their qualifications. This enlistment offers a chance for middle-aged men to see service immediately, it was stated.

Regarding the other 4,000 men required, the recruiting unit will be the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve, which has on its roster approximately 1,700 ratings, receiving training on a voluntary basis at present.

These ratings are being drafted at the rate of about 400 a month for active service and it is necessary to fill their places immediately.

Recruits offering themselves must be prepared to undertake training at night for three months before being accepted for paid service with the R.C.N.V.R. and becoming eligible for draft.

Fascist Leaders Rounded Up in U.K.

LONDON (CP)—The Home Office tonight announced the arrest of "leading members of the British Union of Fascists" in a widespread drive against the fifth column.

Among those arrested was Sir Oswald Mosley, leader of the British Union.

Earlier the Conservative member of parliament for Midlothian and Peebles, Captain Archibald Ramsay, who served with the Coldstream Guards, had been detained. He is an Eton and Sandhurst man, grandson of a British General and was a member of the British War Mission to Paris in 1918. More recently he had been a member of the Potato Marketing Board.

Known as Head Of 'Right Club'

The home office, in announcing Ramsay's arrest, described him as president of the "Right Club."

Another arrested was John Beckett, former Labor member of parliament and later a follower of Mosley. He is now secretary of the "British People's Party" and is known as an organizer of "no more war" demonstration.

Beckett is recalled as the fellow who tried to run off with the mace—symbol of parliamentary authority—as a protest against the suspension of another member, Fenner Brockway, during a debate on Indian July 17, 1930.

Police raided headquarters of the British Union a short distance from the Houses of Parliament, while other officers remained outside and watched doors of adjoining offices of the Fascist organization.

A number of persons left British Union headquarters accompanied by police.

As soon as the House of Commons read a letter from Sir John Anderson, Home Secretary and Minister for Home Security, announcing Captain Ramsay had been interned in Brixton prison, Ramsay had long been regarded as a Fascist, particularly on the score of anti-Semitism. He has been a Conservative member of the House for the last nine years, sitting for a Scottish constituency.

When Will Thorne, Labor,

Police Given Special Arms

The Home Secretary said special measures had been taken to increase the arms available to police for their "own protection."

Ordinarily, British police carry only a truncheon, with no firearms except in emergencies.

Sir John also announced the expansion of 167 members of the outlawed Irish Republican Army under the act to prevent violence.

He declared it was against the public interest to disclose beforehand any steps against Communist and Fascist societies.

Sir John said the names of a number of other persons ordered detained would be announced as soon as they were arrested.

Replying to a question, the Home Secretary said that "this is a precautionary measure" and

Belgrade Cancels Tommygun Concert

BELGRADE (CP-Havas)—The discovery of arms in the baggage of members of the Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra led to cancellation of a concert by the orchestra here and an immediate request to the players to quit Yugoslavia at once, it was learned here today.

It was disclosed the well-armed musicians had been accompanied by a corps of "technical experts," relatives, substitutes, friends and newspapermen, totaling altogether about 500 persons, and these, too, were found to have weapons in their baggage.

BAN COMMUNISTS, RUSH PLANES, CALDECOTE CALLS

OTTAWA (CP)—Twin bills banning the Communist and Nazi movements in Canada and preventing their candidates from contesting Dominion elections will be submitted to parliament by Wilfrid Lacroix, Liberal, Quebec-Montmorency, according to notice given on the house order paper today.

The Quebec member's measures would amend the Dominion Elections Act, 1938, and amend the Criminal Code by inserting a new section as Section 134A.

Any person who attends forbidden meetings, or advocates forbidden principles would be liable to imprisonment from two to 20 years.

British Arrest Mosley and M.P.

LONDON (CP)—The Home Office tonight announced the arrest of "leading members of the British Union of Fascists" in a widespread drive against the fifth column.

Among those arrested was Sir Oswald Mosley, leader of the British Union.

Earlier the Conservative member of parliament for Midlothian and Peebles, Captain Archibald Ramsay, who served with the Coldstream Guards, had been detained. He is an Eton and Sandhurst man, grandson of a British General and was a member of the British War Mission to Paris in 1918. More recently he had been a member of the Potato Marketing Board.

Police Take Papers From Oswald's House

After Sir Oswald had been taken away from his town apartment, a party of officers entered and conducted a search. They also entered a house overlooking the Thames, which is owned by Sir Oswald, and took a number of documents.

Lady Mosley, who with her sister, Unity Freeman-Mitford, was a friend of Hitler before the war, had left the Thames house for Denmark a short time earlier, neighbors said. Lady Mosley also has been active in British Union work.

She and Miss Freeman-Mitford, who is suffering from a bullet wound received in Munich last August, are daughters of Lord Redesdale.

The Duke of Devonshire, speaking for the government, told the House of Lords tonight that a "considerable number of persons of British nationality" had been arrested. He said the alien population of the country was, at the outbreak of the war, 238,000, and that the total number of Germans and Austrians, including 55,000 refugees, was 74,000.

German Failure On Aisne River

The attack was made in the southeastern corner of the German bulge into France, in a sector comparatively quiet for the last few days.

Attigny is 10 miles east of Reims, near the point where the main Maginot Line joins its northwestern extension, now pierced.

The sector in which the Nazis made their attempt is on the south side of the Aisne, where the main French forces have taken their stand.

At other points of the main front, running along the Somme and Aisne for 200 miles, the French launched counter-attacks. Heavy artillery preparation preceded the attack in the Attigny sector.

Farther west and north, the French armies, after what foreign military experts called "a miracle of reorganization," fought furiously to reunite their northern

Slashing Counter-attacks by Allies

PARIS (AP)—The French armies in a slashing counter-attack tonight cracked the German salient which had extended to the English Channel and reported they had reached the suburbs of their first objective—Amiens.

Tonight's communique read: "Very numerous combats have taken place at various points in the northern region."

"Our advanced elements have reached the suburbs of Amiens."

"Enemy attacks, preceded by strong artillery preparation, collapsed south of Sedan."

"There were artillery duels between Longuyon and the Moselle."

"There was intense activity by our bombing aviation both day and night."

"During the night of May 22 our pursuit aviation drove off groups of enemy bombers consisting of 20 planes each which attempted to carry out diving attacks on our battlefield."

"At least eight enemy planes were brought down during that engagement. All of our machines have returned."

Amiens previously had been taken by the Germans in their drive across northern France to the sea.

The French drive on Amiens—which had been held by light German forces—was conducted by the central armies on the Somme, while the northern Allied forces battled the Germans in Flanders.

The French were reported pushed back elsewhere in their effort to break the Nazi salient along the Somme River.

A third battle was raging farther to the east, where the Germans attacked this afternoon south of Sedan, but were reported in the night communique to have been repulsed.

Belgian sources said tonight that German troops which had entered the Allied lines at Audenarde, south of Ghent, Belgium, had been thrown back almost immediately by an Allied counter-attack.

Nazi Plane Losses Mount Over 1,000

The military spokesman estimated the Allied aerial forces had brought down "at least 1,000" German planes since May 10.

The operations in the Cambrai region, the spokesman emphasized, resulted from the withdrawal yesterday by French troops from the northwestern outskirts after German attacks.

Later in the day, however, French units counter-attacked and "won back even more than we had lost," the spokesman said.

The activity was described as "the biggest part" of "a great battle now in progress along the Escaut (Scheldt) River north of the city."

Line From Rethel To Amiens

The chief wall of defence against the Nazi invaders ran from Rethel, on the River Aisne, west and north to Amiens, on the Somme.

But at the same time a French army said to be moving north from the St. Quentin region was reported only 35 miles short of effecting liaison with British, French, Belgian and Netherlands units withdrawn from advanced positions in Belgium.

The French forces in this operation appeared to be trying for a sword stroke to sever light German scouting forces to the west of the Escaut (Scheldt) River.

Forces Battle At Boulogne

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill told the House of Commons today: "The German armored forces which made their way through the breach in the French army have penetrated into the rear of the Allied army in Belgium and are now attempting to derange their communications. Abbeville is in enemy hands and heavy fighting is proceeding around and in Boulogne."

"It is too early yet to say what the result of this coastal fighting may be, but it evidently carries with it implications of a serious character. Meanwhile, General Weygand, who is in supreme command, is conducting operations involving all the Allied armies with a view to restoring and reconstituting their combined front."

Abbeville, at the mouth of the Somme 12 miles from the English Channel, was reached by the Germans Tuesday, but French reports yesterday said the Nazi advance guard had been "driven out."

Boulogne, north of Abbeville, is on the Strait of Dover, near the northern extremity of the French coast.

Mr. Churchill spoke only two minutes in the briefest war statement yet made to the House of Commons.

Allies Stand On Line in Belgium

A halt in withdrawals of the French, British and Belgian troops from their lines in Belgium, north and west from this main battleground, was implied in military reports, according to the authoritative newspaper Le Temps.

The extreme left wing of the Allied armies, which swung into Belgium on the day of the German invasion, has taken up positions in the rear of the Scheldt and Scarpe Rivers and the troops face south and southeast against the German forces which are swinging on the Channel.

The department of marine announced the loss of three ships. They were the 548-ton submarine Doris, the 1,378-ton torpedo boat L'Adroit, and the supply ship Le Nigier, 5,482 tons.

The Admiralty gave no report on the crew of the Doris, which normally carried 40 men, but said all members of the crews of the other two vessels were rescued.

"All other vessels frequently attacked by planes, many of which were shot down, continue to participate in the operations," the Admiralty announced.

"The high command's forenoon communique said: 'In the north the battle continued with the greatest violence. It is confirmed that we have driven to the outskirts of Cambrai.'

"Artillery combat has become violent at various points of the front, particularly in the regions of D'Attigny, Longuyon and to the north of the Nied River."

Fire in Dawson

DAWSON, Y.T. (CP)—Fire last night destroyed the old Orpheum Theatre and adjoining Yukonia Hotel and resulted in a volunteer firefighter suffering a fracture of one leg.

Louis Roal broke his limb when he was forced to leap from the porch of the burning hotel while helping combat the flames, which started in the upper story of the theatre.

About a year ago the Yukonia Hotel and M. and N. Restaurant were gutted by fire.

Rumania Guards Borders; Checks Groups' Activities

By MAURICE CASTAGNE
BUCHAREST (CP-Havas)—Some 350,000 reservists—almost all the remaining men not previously mobilized—today began a 30-day period of service with the colors as Rumania enforced a series of new measures to cope with possible invasion from Germany or Russia.

A full-mobilized armed force of about 1,300,000 men now faces a German army massed in Slovakia and Soviet troops concentrated on this country's Polish and Bessarabian frontiers.

While reservists were crowding into railway stations throughout the nation, the following additional measures were taken on the home front:

1.—King Carol canceled the celebration of the 10th anniversary of his coronation scheduled for June 8, declaring that in the present juncture the country's entire manpower and energy were needed elsewhere than in such demonstrations.

CHECK-UP ON POLES

2.—Polish refugees residing in Bucharest were ordered to present their identification papers to police for verification by June 2. All provisory residence permits will be voided after that date. Persons who fail to submit their papers are liable to heavy penalty.

3.—Two Iron Guard leaders who secretly entered this country from Germany, were arrested—the first breach in the incipient reconciliation between the government and the pro-Fascist organization, which most Rumanians continue to view as a potential fifth column.

4.—The press was placed under rigorous orders to refrain from giving Germany any slightest provocation, and newspapers formerly sympathetic with the Allies began giving a decidedly Nazi tinge to their reports.

NAZI MINORITY ACTIVE

Rumania felt itself isolated as never before, with the German minority on the Yugoslav border openly agitating trouble between the two countries, and with the Reich using every possible means to prevent effective Turco-Rumanian solidarity.

Germany was reported in some quarters to have offered Rumania assurances against Soviet expansionism—centred chiefly around Russia's long-standing demand for return of Bessarabia—provided this country would fully gratify the Nazi economic demands.

Nazi diplomats were reported to have approached the government unofficially through representatives of the Rumanian metal industry to propose that Rumania break all its other alliances and trade agreements and place itself unreservedly in the German sphere.

Rumanian officials were determinedly silent today on the probable decision of their leaders in the face of German demands.

BRITAIN AND EIRE CONFER ON DEFENCE

LONDON (CP)—The governments of Britain and Eire both are "alive to the possibilities" of an invasion of Britain through Ireland, Clement Attlee, Lord Privy Seal, told the House of Commons today.

Mr. Attlee said he could make no statement relating to Britain's own defensive measures and added:

"There can be no question of the British government giving orders to the government of Eire, but all proper information has been passed."

Sir Henry Jones, Conservative, said he was not satisfied with Mr. Attlee's reply and would raise the question again.

A committee of members of the Conservative Party said the problem was considered urgent because of activities of the outlawed Irish Republican Army and the presence in Eire of a German legion.

A Dublin source last night said the government of Eire was determined to prevent any use of its territory as a base for attack on Britain. Coastal defences have been strengthened and the army is at full strength. Reservists released last year have been recalled.

DUBLIN (CP)—Sean O'Kelly, deputy Prime Minister, declared today that "we will not let anybody come here and try to take advantage of the disunity of our people to exploit this country for the advantage of some other country."

Mr. O'Kelly added that he hoped "the completion of our great national idea (unity and independence of all Ireland) will be achieved without any outside interference whatever except such aid as the government asks in the name of the people."

Canada Clamps On 5th Column

OTTAWA (CP)—The government has taken all possible precautions against fifth column activities in Canada, Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, assured Parliament this afternoon in a detailed statement on measures against espionage and sabotage.

War-time regulations for the preservation of the safety of the state have been carefully drawn up, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police are in control of the situation, known enemy aliens and naturalized enemies of the state have been interned, and a close watch is kept on all suspicious persons, Mr. Lapointe said.

A committee of Parliament will be established to review the government's steps to guard against fifth column activities and recommend any changes or further steps.

Defence Declaration

Sharp Reply to Lindbergh By U.S. Senator Byrnes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Striking back at Col. Charles A. Lindbergh for his criticism of the Roosevelt administration's foreign policy, Senator J. F. Byrnes, Democrat, South Carolina, asserted Lindbergh was "no more qualified" to speak on the subject than "Wrong Way Corrigan or any other aviator who may fly the Atlantic Ocean."

He added that "fifth columns are already active in America" and that "those who consciously or unconsciously retard the efforts of this government to provide for the defence of the American people are the fifth column's most effective fellow travelers."

Byrnes' address was considered the administration forces' official reply to the speech in which Lindbergh called last Sunday for an end to "hysterical chatter of calamity and invasion," declared what he considered meddling in Europe and urged a "definite policy" of defence.

Byrnes stated President Roosevelt had a "definite policy of defence already formulated" and had stated it "time and again."

The senator said "Mr. Lindbergh" had accepted a decoration from Hitler. He went on to inquire:

"When Mr. Lindbergh says 'no one wishes to attack us,' is he authorized to speak for Hitler or Goering? Can the American people in the light of recent history accept the assurance of this young gentleman that if we do not ask for war it will not come to us?"

BOMBING PLANES
Byrnes, chairman of the Senate naval appropriations subcommittee, took sharp issue with Lindbergh's statement that foreign air forces do not have bombing planes capable of crossing the ocean and returning, and criticized the flier's views on policy as well.

"When Mr. Lindbergh states that 'regardless of which side wins this war, there is no reason, aside from our own actions, to prevent a continuation of peace relations between America and the countries of Europe,'" Byrnes said, "I shudder to think of the kind of America Mr. Lindbergh is willing to accept."

"Mr. Lindbergh may tell us to stop this hysterical chatter of calamity and invasion, but I think God that America has at last been aroused to the dangers that beset her in a world menaced by brute force and strident ambition and is grimly determined to arm in self-defence."

ATTITUDE ON CANADA
Discussing previous speeches by Lindbergh, including one in which the aviator said "in effect that we must demand Canada separate itself from the British Empire," Byrnes said that "we speak for Canada," because "if Canada had refused 'we could enforce' that demand only 'with force'."

Discussing the problem of United States defence in the event the British fleet was destroyed, Byrnes asked if Lindbergh really believed the problem would not be affected seriously in such an event.

Hitler might order Britain to surrender her fleet if she was defeated, Byrnes said, and "if Britain surrendered its fleet to save its people, we would be confronted by Hitler possessing a navy superior to our own."

"Mr. Lindbergh seems not concerned with the flagrant violations of the rights of peaceful little nations. . . . To Mr. Lindbergh all these seem to be only little, trifling, insignificant incidents to an age-old struggle for power."

"But to me these vile, barbaric

There were 16,643 aliens registered and reporting regularly to police, and exemptions had been made in 1,322 cases, many of them Czechs and citizens of other Nazi-dominated states, said the minister.

In addition to enemy nationals interned, a close watch was being kept on foreign-born naturalized Canadians suspected of enemy propaganda work or possible sabotage intentions. There were 406 interned and 145 released, leaving 261 persons considered enemy aliens still in the internment camps, Mr. Lapointe said.

Peaceable aliens of enemy origin were permitted their freedom so long as they carried on normal life without attempts at any activity on behalf of the enemy, he said.

Germans Claim More Ground Taken

BERLIN (AP)—The German high command in its communique this forenoon said:

"In Flanders our attack over the Scheldt (river) is slowly winning ground against heavy resistance. . . . A British communique dealing with the Scheldt operations said: 'The Germans have attacked . . . at many places without success except near Audenarde, where they forced a crossing.'"

"Near Valenciennes the fight still is in progress. The forest region of Mormal, southeast of Valenciennes, where the French forces attempted to flee, has been mopped up."

"Yesterday also attempts of enemy armored forces to break through near Cambrai were thrown back by the army air force with enemy losses."

"French military authorities announced French troops had fought their way into the north-western outskirts of Cambrai."

"West of Arras German troops advanced their wedge northward in the direction of Calais. . . . On the entire southern front, from the Somme to the Meuse, the enemy is on the defensive. In the fortifications of Liege, two of the most modern works of battle surrendered. On the southern front, Namur still holds some emplacements."

"Air force attacks centred mainly on rear connections of the enemy as well as retreat movements and troop concentrations in Flanders and Arras. Three transports and one tank, with a total tonnage of around 20,000 and one destroyer were heavily damaged by the armed reconnaissance of the Channel coast."

"The harbor facilities at Dunkerque and Dover were effectively bombed. German speedboats sank an enemy destroyer off Dunkerque."

"No naval or marine losses tallying the above claims were announced in London or Paris. Regarding the Dover claim, the air ministry in London said there is 'no truth whatever' to the assertion that port installations at the English Channel port have been bombed."

WEATHER DELAYS FLIERS

"Air force activity on both sides was limited on account of the weather. The enemy lost nine planes and five German planes are missing."

"The British air ministry announced that R.A.F. fighters had shot down at least 37 German planes yesterday. R.A.F. losses were placed at six planes."

"A heavy cruiser was severely hit on the prow off Narvik. One 3,000-ton transport was sunk and another heavily damaged."

"There was no indication in Allied advices of such action off the Norwegian coast."

"A tent camp and munition dump were fired, supply columns scattered and landing facilities successfully attacked."

"Last night also the enemy continued planless air attacks against nonmilitary objectives."

"In the Netherlands the towns of Mijmegen and Walwyk were attacked by British planes and numerous civilians killed."

"The British air ministry announced the R.A.F. had attacked military objectives in raids extending from Rhenish Prussia to northern Belgium, causing havoc

British Troops In Heavy Fighting

LONDON (CP)—A communique issued today said:

"The Germans have attacked the Escaut (Scheldt) position at many places without success except near Audenarde, where they forced a crossing."

"In the Arras sector there has been fierce fighting and we have successfully maintained our positions on this flank of the gap between the Scheldt and the Meuse."

"Through this gap the enemy have succeeded in passing armored elements followed by motorized units which have succeeded in reaching the neighborhood of the coast."

"Steps are being taken to guard vital points against these detachments."

"There has been much air activity over northern France and German bombers and reconnaissance aircraft are being shot down in numbers by anti-aircraft artillery and small arms fire."

COMMUNICATIONS THREATENED

An authoritative spokesman today stated the Allied situation on the western front was "extremely grave." He said the British communications were in danger.

"There is a gap between the two armies," he said, referring to a German thrust which the British communique had stated reached "the neighborhood of the coast" of the English Channel.

"German armored forces are cruising about behind (the lines), cutting telephone communications and attacking nodal points."

The military spokesman said he was unable to say whether the Channel ports still were usable by the Allies. However, he added, he was certain they had "not been bombed to blazes."

He cautioned the press against sounding "a note of intense optimism" over the Allied counter-attack in the Cambrai area yesterday.

"The situation is grave. You only have to look at the map to see that British communications are in danger," he said.

COUNTER-ATTACK AWAITED

The spokesman said that, so far as is known in London, the Allies had not as yet started any first class counter-attacks—and that he believed the Germans were in considerable force in the area where the British counter-attack occurred yesterday.

In that action, he said, the British took 400 German prisoners, killed 300 and destroyed a number of tanks.

"But this counter-attack was only a small part of the picture," he warned.

"The situation is extremely obscure. It is impossible to know with any certainty what is going on."

The Air Ministry announced Royal Air Force bombing planes had continued to harass enemy columns in northern France yesterday. During the night "enemy communications were heavily bombed in the Sedan area and in southern Belgium, while further attacks were made in Germany on railways carrying military traffic towards the battlefield."

EYES ON ARRAS

Before the authoritative spokesman termed the Allied situation grave, the public had been cheered by more favorable war news.

Military commentators had said that recapture of Arras might prove to be the turning point of the great battle raging in northern France.

The result of a British counter-attack between Arras and Douai, 15 miles to the northeast, was not immediately learned here. London sources said the British front had held everywhere in yesterday's fighting, and that casualties were not heavy.

Restore Sanity Through Poison

CINCINNATI (AP)—Insane persons are being restored to normal with one of the deadliest poisons known to man.

Dr. A. E. Bennett of Omaha, Neb., told the American Psychiatric Association today that curare, used by South American Indians on their spear and arrow heads to kill men and animals within a few minutes, can now be prescribed safely in medical treatment.

Just as the deadly venoms of some snakes are now used successfully in the relief of pain, curare serves as a preliminary drug in the shock treatment of persons suffering from schizophrenia and other mental diseases.

"According to additional reports received, the number of enemy airplanes shot down by anti-aircraft between May 10 and May 15, as previously stated in a special bulletin, amounts to 342."

R.A.F. Spreads Ruin At German Centres

LONDON (CP)—An Air Ministry communique tonight said:

"All day yesterday Blenheim, Battle and Lysander aircraft continued to harass enemy movements in the fighting areas in the northeast of France and Belgium. Enemy tank columns and motorized units were attacked and many hits made on them."

"Concentrations of troops were repeatedly bombed and machine-gunned and thrown into disorder. Eleven of our airmen failed to return."

BOMBERS BEHIND LINES

"Last night a strong force of heavy and medium bomber aircraft went out to attack objectives behind the fighting front. In southern Belgium and the Meuse sector much damage was done to road and rail junctions. The railway junction at Charleroi was damaged. Bridges in the Namur region sustained direct hits."

Troop concentrations were heavily bombed in the area north of the Aisne.

"Other large formations of heavy bombers penetrated into Germany, where they seriously interfered with the enemy's lines of communications."

"At Bonche railway bridges and sidings were hit. At Gendern two supply trains were bombed. They

Great Rally in Britain

The Daily Express said "the emergency powers bill and the treachery bill mean this: Henceforth he who is not with us is against us. Hitler started this war eight years ago. We start it today. Mr. Churchill: All you ask of us we give, willingly, eagerly. This is the morning the nation has been waiting for ever since you made your appeal four months ago."

Press, Public Laud Total Control Move

LONDON (CP)—The government's decision to control everything and everybody gained the approval today of the entire press, the man in the street and George Bernard Shaw.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King's hint that Canada may have a full powers bill too was splashed in afternoon newspapers.

Most men in the street said the Churchill government's action was "a good move—but why wasn't it done before?"

Mr. Shaw said now that "we are thoroughly frightened we shall be all right."

"Until the English are frightened they never do anything but play cricket, football, hopscotch and tennis," the playwright declared. "The Kaiser made the mistake of frightening the English. Now Hitler has committed the same awful blunder. . . . He is going to find out what we are like when we are frightened."

The conductor of one bus said: "Blimey, when you think of chaps losing their lives for two bob a day nobody can complain if their savings are borrowed. There must be millions of pounds lying idle in this country."

LARGE HEADLINES

In big headlines London's newspapers today told the public of the drastic steps taken to meet the grave war situation.

"Dictator powers for the government," was the flaring banner on the Evening News.

"Government control of everything and everybody," ran the headline on the Star.

"To conquer totalitarianism we must for the time being go totalitarian," observed the Daily Mirror.

The London Evening Standard said: "Had this measure been passed nine months ago 500,000 perhaps 1,000,000 lives might have been saved." It recalled the words of John Milton, the great poet and pamphleteer of another commonwealth: "Methinks I see in my mind a noble and puissant nation rousing herself like a strong man after sleep and shaking her invincible locks."

The Times, London, commented: "A united nation feels no hesitation or misgiving though the new act comes near to suspending the very essence of the constitution as it has been built up in 1,000 years."

"Our ancient liberties are placed in pawn for victory. . . . temporary surrender is made with glad heart and confident spirit for it makes every man and woman a member of the nation's forces."

The Manchester Guardian: "We must surrender our liberties to the government of our choice in order that we may resume them. . . . The government could do one thing that would have great significance—it could announce its assumption of control of the Bank of England."

Morocco Tense As Italians Fan Anti-French Fire

ROME (AP)—Premier Mussolini was reported by a usually reliable source to have summoned a meeting of his Supreme Defence Council today while his official news agency, Stefani, reported from French North Africa that "the situation is tense."

Italians accused French authorities in Morocco of "renewing hateful persecutions against Italians living in the protectorate."

Stefani, in a dispatch from Rabat, French Morocco, said that "without justified reasons or explanation, Italians of all social classes have been arrested, imprisoned or expelled from the territory within a few hours, with disastrous consequences to their property and interests gained by decades of sacrifices and honest work."

The agency added: "Some nationals who asked to leave on an Italian steamer which was to arrive within a few hours instead were forced to leave immediately by train for Tangiers, where they knew nobody and where their situation cannot be bettered, considering the abuses and French interference with the international administration which pretends to safeguard the Sultan's prerogatives entrusted to French protection."

"In a government airplane factory at Casablanca Italian workers have been arrested on the pretext of checking out cases of sabotage while other workers who are French or foreigners are not molested although they are notorious former Communists or friendly to Communists. The situation is tense."

Meantime Premier Mussolini, continuing Italy's war preparations on the eve of the 25th anniversary of her entry into the World War, ordered the general board of war manufactures made into a cabinet division.

Cripps to Kremlin?

LONDON (CP)—Discussions are now going on between London and Moscow on the possible dispatch of a British emissary to the Kremlin to exchange views not only on commercial questions but on all other problems in the relations of the two countries, it was learned in diplomatic circles here today.

The circles consider it possible that Sir Stafford Cripps, prominent Labor leader, will be the envoy, if the Kremlin approves his selection.

1,000,000 Need Aid

OTTAWA (CP)—Baron Silvertown, Belgian Minister to Canada, said in an appeal for relief of Belgian refugees that "over 1,000,000 people lack completely the bare necessities of life."

He thought he left $100,000 for his family

The value of his estate was $100,000 but after taxes, debts and fees were deducted only $79,000 was left for the family.

If this father used a 4 1/4% rate when figuring the income from his estate for his family, they will receive $893 less EACH YEAR than he had counted upon.

Settlement costs (taxes, debts and fees) in the administration of estates are inevitable, but on the average a Trust Company will use only $1,870 for every $2,150 used by individual executors for such purposes.

With 38 years of experience in the management and distribution of estates, this Company will make an economical executor for your estate.

United Farmers Urge Conscription

SASKATOON (CP)—The United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section, is urging conscription of wealth and labor in Canada to aid the Allied cause.

Following parliamentary action in Great Britain giving the government full powers, Frank Ellison, secretary of the U.F.C., sent a telegram to Prime Minister Mackenzie King at Ottawa stating:

"British government has conscripted wealth and property by assent of His Majesty King George VI. United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section, urges similar action forthwith by your government. In the interests of Canada's fighting forces, of all human life and of the future of civilization, we require national control and guidance of finance, industry and agriculture and general speeding up of all war activities in a determined effort to win."

REGISTRATION URGED

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Point Grey branch of the Canadian Legion has passed a resolution asking the federal government to inaugurate compulsory national registration of all British Empire subjects in Canada between 18 and 65 for the purpose of compulsory national service.

Call for Aircraftmen

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—A proclamation issued in Newfoundland calls for volunteers from the ranks of skilled tradesmen for the ground staff of the Royal Air Force.

Aircraft crews, pilots, observers, gunners and radio operators are not included. These, the proclamation says, will be enlisted separately. The enlistments are not regarded here as part of the Empire training plan since volunteers would proceed immediately to England.

CANADIAN CHEESE SOLD TO BRITAIN

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada is selling 75,000,000 pounds of cheese to the British Ministry of Food. The price will be 14 cents a pound F.O.B. ship, or rail at Montreal for first grade. Export will be handled by the board, according to the announcement of the transaction issued by Agriculture Minister Gardiner.

The cheese will be bought on grading certificates of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, which will be accepted as evidence of quality.

The price of 14 cents a pound is slightly higher than that prevailing recently. The agreement will have no effect on the bonus of two cents a pound which the government now pays on top quality cheese. So long as funds are voted by Parliament for the purpose the bonus will be paid.

Dairy officials estimate the price will net to the factory at least 13½ cents.

The agreement will take care of Canada's normal exportable surplus. Last year out of a total production of 222,000,000 pounds, $1,153,000 was exported almost entirely to the United Kingdom.

R.A.F. Scatters Tanks

WITH THE ROYAL AIR FORCE IN FRANCE (AP)—German tanks have been seen diving from roads in confusion to avoid clusters of bombs dropped by low-flying Royal Air Force planes in widespread raids just behind the lines in northern France.

Large formations of Britain's advance air striking force are taking part in raids aimed at shattering German communications and supply lines.

At one point as their planes roared down, pilots said, they could see a battle on the ground between two Allied and two German tanks. Twenty enemy light tanks were counted along one road near Amiens. They were splattered with machine gun fire from the planes.

Vancouverites Offer Services to Canada

VANCOUVER (CP)—Members of the Vancouver Board of Trade have offered their services to the Dominion government "to be used in the most effective manner possible," and urged that "immediate steps be taken to organize fully the manhood and womanhood of the nation for war purposes."

The board unanimously adopted a resolution to this effect, which added that the government should give a head to those persons who wish to serve their country "and dispel the grave feeling that their services cannot be used in any capacity and are not wanted."

Warned of False News

PARIS (CP)—An authorized statement was issued here warning radio listeners in other lands against false news broadcasts about so-called sedition movements, street fights and "the government's intention to abandon Paris as the nation's capital."

The statement added that a neutral observer could easily see that events of the last few days have in no way destroyed the patriotic courage and resolution with which France is coping with the influx of refugees from war-torn areas. It was emphasized that the public services and supply systems were functioning normally.

HITLER TAKES NEW TEAR AT VERSAILLES TREATY—Long-time pet hate of Adolf Hitler has been the Treaty of Versailles. Now he has added another to his many repudiations of the treaty clauses by reincorporating into the Reich territory which Belgium gained from Germany after the war. Map shows how the Nazi leader has torn up the treaty.

New Air Minister Speeds Huge Plan

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's air force activities today are under jurisdiction of a new minister, Hon. C. G. Power, who has pledged himself and associates to produce results as quickly as possible.

Both Houses moved swiftly yesterday to clothe the government with power to set up the new Department of National Defence for air. It was debated two hours in the House of Commons, but during the evening the Senate took only five minutes to put the bill through all stages.

Mr. Justice O. S. Crockett of the Supreme Court of Canada, as deputy of the administrator, came to the Senate and gave the bill royal assent.

In the House debate Prime Minister King assured questioners that while the defence minister, Hon. Norman Rogers, would have the final authority in all matters pertaining to defence, Major Power would, except in an extreme circumstance, have full authority over all matters relating to the Royal Canadian Air Force and the Commonwealth Air Training Plan.

GIVEN OVATION

Mr. Power received an ovation from the House when he arose to take part in the debate on his bill. He replied to doubts expressed by Joseph Harris, Conservative, Toronto-Danforth, as to the wisdom of having the new minister in any way subordinate to the defence minister.

"I am quite satisfied there will be abundant authority and perhaps all too great responsibility on the shoulders of the person who has been designated as minister for air," Mr. Power said.

To questions raised by the Conservative leader, Hon. R. B. Hanson, and others in the opposition, Mr. Power said the air department was only a wartime measure and would automatically disappear six months after the war.

Mr. Power said it was hoped the government would persuade the present deputy minister of defence for air, S. J. Duncan, of Toronto, to remain longer than the three months to which he originally agreed.

ENORMOUS TASK

"I am fully aware of the magnitude of the task before me," Mr. Power said.

"The amount of money involved in the air training scheme alone is almost as much as goes into operation of the Canadian National or Canadian Pacific Railways."

"We must organize something greater than any industry in Canada—comparable in the amount involved to some of the greatest industries in the United States."

"What took 50 years to accomplish in the case of the railways must be built up in a matter of months in the case of the air training scheme."

"In this time of crisis I ask you to allow the officers of the department and myself to get on with our work as quickly as possible."

"We would be lacking in hope, faith and confidence in our Allies if we did not, today at this dark and hour, plan to send assistance to them when they may have stabilized the line and are holding the fort."

NEW WAR ISSUE ON SALE MONDAY

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's new war saving certificates will go on sale Monday and will be available for purchase for the duration of the war, it was learned from government sources.

There is no limit set on the amount to be raised. "We will take every cent the Canadian people want to put into certificate purchases," an official said. "There is no question of the total."

A campaign for the sale of the certificates will start Sunday when Finance Minister Ralston and Justice Minister Lapointe broadcast over the national network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation from 5.30 to 6 p.m. P.S.T.

Full particulars of this new form of war financing will be outlined then and Col. Ralston will specify the denominations of the certificates.

The Finance Minister announced several weeks ago that the government planned to issue war savings certificates to raise more money for the war chest.

Hunt Out Pro-Nazis

TROCHU, Alta. (CP)—Following reports of pro-Nazi activity in this district a volunteer home defence organization has been formed here. A committee of 12 was chosen to direct organization work and a resolution was passed asking the Dominion government to authorize formation of home defence units and to intern all enemy aliens.

Immediate Aid to Allies Urged in United States

NEW YORK (AP)—Major General John F. O'Ryan, commander of the 27th United States division in Belgium and France during the first Great War, is urging Congress authorize immediate military aid to the Allies "with or without war declaration."

He suggests sending of aircraft carriers, transports, protecting naval vessels and at least 2,000 bomber and fighter planes with pilots.

He expressed his views in a telegram to the Veterans' Civil Service League, after receiving a message from 600 members whom he led in 1918 offering to fight under him again.

WOULD AMEND NEUTRALITY

TORONTO (CP)—The idea of a League of Nations again will be in the minds of peacemakers when war is over and the United States must "assume proper responsibilities in this connection," Daniel C. Roper, former United States Secretary of Commerce and Minister to Canada, said in an address here today.

"I believe that had the terms of the peace treaty (of Versailles) been less drastic and had the United States joined the League of Nations promptly, we would never have heard of Hitler and the present war would have been avoided," Mr. Roper told the closing session of the first International Credit Men's Congress.

Expressing dissatisfaction "with our American situation with respect to credits for the Allies," he said supplies of all kinds should be conveyed in every possible way, by barter and otherwise, to the Allies.

"Our neutrality law unintentionally misrepresents our national purposes, and embarrasses the operation of our domestic ideals," he said. "Both it and the Johnson Act should be amended to meet our responsibilities in the present-day crisis. All essential supplies should be exempted from the cash and carry restrictions."

Canada and the United States should be "tied together in every way that will eliminate possibilities of friction."

Go the Limit

BRITAIN'S NEW GOVERNMENT, ABLY and energetically led by the man who biterly assailed every concession to the brutalitarian dictator in Berlin, and who opposed with all the vehemence at his command the whole ghastly policy of appeasement, has quickly transformed the life and work of the nation into one compact force to oppose Hitlerism. Parliament has clothed the cabinet with the fullest possible authority to marshal everything it may deem necessary to fight the common foe on all conceivable fronts. In other words, Mr. Churchill and a ministry in which the entire country has unbounded confidence are now instructed by the representatives of the people to stop at nothing, to spare no expense, to be deaf, dumb and blind to every form of opposition which has no justifiable support, in order that the national effort may quickly reach its maximum of effectiveness.

It has taken only two weeks to bring about this amazing metamorphosis in the national life of a people fighting with their backs to the wall. After Hitler's mechanized hordes had invaded Luxembourg, Belgium and Holland, it was a foregone conclusion that the British press and public would demand a change of government, the appointment of a ministry representative of the people's mood and desire, led by a man of stern resolution, who—with others who knew the Prussian mentality—for long had realized that the head of the Nazi hierarchy would sooner or later have to be dealt with in the only terms his tribe understands. With the rapid change of scene in the battle areas, therefore, nothing remained for Mr. Churchill to do but to face the situation squarely, take the nation completely into his confidence, and then conscript and mobilize all its material and physical resources. This is what he has done.

It is to be noted with satisfaction that another bill passed rapidly through all its stages in the British Parliament. Full authority has been given to the government to deal with miscreants hiding behind the "Fifth Column." These vicious creatures are to get the deserts of the traitor—death. Britain is long suffering; she has found it much better to allow her malcontents to send up their walls to high heaven to mingle with the gentle zephyrs rather than to drive them into hovels to fashion their grievances into bombs. But this is war; Mr. Churchill remembers the Nazi propaganda technique in Austria, in Czechoslovakia, in Poland, in the other countries whose despoliation has been more rapid and thorough than would have been the case if "domestic help" had not been available beforehand. Under the powers which the British Parliament gave the government yesterday, therefore, the native Seyss-Inquarts, Henlein, Forster and Quislings need not look for much mercy if Britain finds them out.

Now that the whole war scene has changed, now that Britain under Churchill's new authority intends to go the limit at all costs, it is for us in Canada to change our scene—geared to, but very far in advance of, the former British government's program and requirements—and take stock of our war potential. Mr. Mackenzie King has stated specifically in the House of Commons that we must accelerate to the limit. Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Munitions and Supply, yesterday directed a request to this country's heavy industry, shipbuilding and aircraft manufacturing firms to speed up their production by working day and night shifts, including Sundays and holidays. This morning he received the most encouraging reports from all those filling war contracts, assuring him that the government's request will be met. This new move, incidentally, coincides with an announcement from Viscount Caldecote, Secretary of State for Dominion Affairs in the Churchill administration, that "one airplane immediately is worth 10 in six months' time." It is to be noted, too, that bombers from the United States now are being flown to Britain in order to assist in the general acceleration.

How far Canada, through its Parliament, is prepared to go in the legislative footsteps of the British Parliament is a matter for immediate consideration. Mr. Mackenzie King has all the precedent he may require. The future of the British Empire is at stake. It is Hitler's boast that he intends to destroy it—if he can. He will be fooled, of course, yet unless the whole of the Empire's strength and resources be utilized to the maximum, and as quickly as possible, he will do much damage. No purpose is to be served by saying, as has been said so many times in the last three years, that he should have been stopped before he could get strong enough to defy the world. But he is now pointing a gun at the heart of the British Empire—at a closer range than at any time since Napoleon looked longingly at the shores of Abilhon from the sands of Boulogne at the dawn of the last century. This is only one reason why Canada now must make up her mind to go the limit.

One of the most heartening facts about the day-to-day progress of this war is the record of the achievements of the Royal Air Force. This is not to make invidious distinctions; but to help us to remember that this magnificent fighting arm is always doing its job in the face of heavy odds.

Sterling and the Dollar

RECENT REPORTS PUBLISHED BY the Dominion Bureau of Statistics indicate the rapid expansion of Canada's export trade during the first quarter of 1940, values rising to $245,000,000 as compared with $200,000,000 in the same period last year, a gain of 23 per cent. Restrictions due to war conditions, however, are increasing. Great Britain including within such regulations even important foodstuffs. The exchange situation is also causing more rigid regulation of imports by Australia and New Zealand. These dominions purchased $32,000,000 and $12,000,000 worth of Canadian goods in 1939 respectively. With the international situation developing so rapidly and the war momentarily increasing in intensity, the export market for all classes of commodities is subject to sudden and unforeseen changes so that the prospect of maintaining the improvement reported during the first quarter of the year is uncertain except in so far as shipments of war materials to Great Britain are expanded.

For the duration of the war, at least, and perhaps for an extended period thereafter, Canada, because of the British Exchange Control, will no longer be able to utilize the balance derived from her export surplus with Great Britain and other countries of the sterling bloc to offset her excess of imports with the United States, as has been the custom in the past. Therefore, in addition to the maintenance of our gold shipments to the neighboring republic, as the Royal Bank of Canada's economist observes in that institution's monthly summary, "the utmost effort must be made to increase the inflow of United States tourist dollars into Canada and to husband most carefully our supply of United States funds." Exports must also be promoted to the greatest possible extent not only to the United States but to all non-sterling countries, most of which have now tied their currencies to the United States dollar, thus constituting a "dollar area." Only by such means can the obligations resulting from our imports from the United States be financed, enhanced as they will be by the ever-growing requirements for war materials should hostilities be continued for a protracted period.

Even M.P.'s Suspect

WITHOUT A DAY'S DELAY THE PARliament at Ottawa should strengthen its authority to deal with potential members of the "Fifth Column" in Canada. Governmental imagination should allow itself full rein. What has happened in Europe in the last year or so should prepare us for the most unexpected. True, we are a long way from the conflict which dispatches from Europe describe every day, but we are situated in one of the Allies' most valuable and, let it be noted, most vulnerable areas. The great industrial plants of this Dominion, the shipyards, our farms, and every phase of activity represented by our war effort, will be considered fair game by this lowest form of life. Even the House of Commons in London has not been immune from the virus emanating from this venomous breed. Scotland Yard this morning tapped Captain A. H. M. Ramsay, since 1931 Conservative member for Midlothian and Peebles, on the shoulder in the course of a wide round-up of alleged "Fifth Column" missions.

Notes

Overlooked by many was the advantage to Hitler in the easy conquest of Luxembourg, aided by 20,000 German residents as an effective "Fifth Column." These Germans helped Hitler to acquire some of the finest and largest iron and steel mines and works in Europe, familiar to many Canadian veterans who went into the tiny Grand Duchy after the armistice in 1918.

People ask how do the Germans refute the tanks which they use with such abandon in their pushes. The German tactics are described as infiltration by day and withdrawal by night to points where refueling trucks await the tanks and other mechanized forces. The Allies, however, have discovered this scheme and now launch furious counterattacks by air and tank to destroy the iron monsters and their auxiliary trucks.

"American" Sentiment Changing

From Toronto Star
Sentiment in the United States has changed quickly during the last month, and particularly during the last week. The thinking people of the country realize that if Britain and France go under, world democracy will be imperilled. Anglo-Saxon civilization is worthy of preservation.

The great United States of America could proceed on her way without bothering her head about developments in Europe. Her intelligentia scold the folly of holding aloof from the struggle. A demand, of small proportions at present, has arisen from Republicans to forget party politics and elections and continue Roosevelt as President so that the United States may act a worthy part in these crucial times. Many loyal citizens of the United States, who loathe war and love liberty and humanity as a whole, feel that their country should not be like one mentioned in a story told of old and pass by on the other side of the road when bleeding, decent peoples are being hurled into the Nazi gutter. This is not the darkest hour in the world's history. But today is a day of destiny. Providence, now as ever, is a factor in world affairs. The dawn will come whether or not it is preceded by the darkest hour.

COATS OFF

JOHN BULL TOOK OFF his coat yesterday and really began to fight. That is the meaning of the emergency powers bill that passed through the Mother of Parliaments in a single day. The government henceforth has power over the lives and property of all citizens, not just over the boys now fighting with their backs to the sea in Flanders.

It had to come. I, for one, got a real thrill as I heard the calm words come over the air. This world will never be the same again. Hitler, Stalin and Mussolini have already seen to that, but there still is a chance of keeping in this world the things that make life worth living if Britons everywhere really fight.

Perhaps the miracle of which Premier Reynaud talked is already happening. Perhaps the miracle is that in the single hour when one of the most diabolical figures in all history seems to have opened the very gates of Hell itself, that the free people of the free world have made up their minds that they have got to fight as they have never fought before.

That already applies to the Old Land. For the very first time in her long history Great Britain has a true national government. Now, at least, none are for the party and all are for the state. For Britons know that though they may have their peacetime quarrels, though there may be injustice as between rich and poor, clashing interests between class and group, that if Britain goes down they all go down together—that the seas will close over them all as over a sunken ship.

As it is now with Britain, so it will soon be with the whole free world. That is my faith upon which I would gamble everything. We will win this war because the fools and rogues and traitors within the United States will soon be silenced. Soon there will not be one intelligent man, woman or child in all America who does not know that if England and France go down the United States will face the last and greatest fight isolated and alone.

WE IN CANADA can play our part. If there is anything to criticize it is not so much our fault as the fault of the governments and experts, who thought they could run a five-year war according to a railway timetable. There are two parties to this war—and one of them seems to have the diabolical cunning of his satanic majesty himself. Hitler has shattered this illusion for ever. It is now or never. We are not just fighting now for an abstract principle, a philosophy, or way of life. We are fighting for the right to live. And if we do not win that fight in Europe we will have to fight the last battle here in Canada, with our wives and our children rushing helplessly down roads bombed and machine-gunned by invading killers.

So far we have been wrong, all wrong—all of us (including me). We have imagined that we could fight this war on a limited liability basis. We quietly vetoed the ideas of bands, flags and the old-time trappings of war. We thought we could allow hundreds of thousands of Germans and German sympathizers to go their way unmolested. Then came the great shock and great awakening. It is time to strike up the band, fly the flag, and teach everybody everywhere how to fight if they have to fight. That not only means teaching them how to shoot paratroopers, if necessary. It also means teaching them how to fight the fifth column while there is still time to fight it.

That does not mean such asinine and stupid and unjust tricks as throwing stones through the windows of Lutheran churches, or persecuting inoffensive citizens of alien origin, the vast majority of whom as just as much opposed to Hitler as any of us. But it does mean to understand what has happened in other countries and what may happen here. Traitors in key places have done as much as any other factor to put Hitler as far along the road to world conquest as he is today. We all know what to expect from the Communist Party. Its loyal followers will do anything that Stalin tells them to do, and swallow anything that Stalin tells them to swallow. It is harder to keep an eye on the other kind, the ladies who wear the evening dresses and the men who appear in dinner coats.

"DAY OF PRAYER"

Sunday, May 26, 1940
Let us this day unite in prayer
That God in Heaven our plea may hear,
And grant our quest for quick relief
From out our trouble and our grief;
That from this day our star shall rise,
A divine answer from the skies.
E. B. ANDROS

GEMS FROM LIFE'S SCRAPBOOK—TOLERANCE

"It is not a merit to tolerate, but rather a crime to be intolerant."—Shelley.

"The responsibility of tolerance lies with those who have the wider vision."—George Eliot.

"We should endeavor to be long-suffering, faithful, and charitable with all. To this small effort let us add one more privilege—namely, silence whenever it can substitute censure."—Mary Baker Eddy.

"I have learned silence from the talkative, toleration from the intolerant, and kindness from the unkind; yet strange, I am ungrateful to those teachers."—Kahlil Gibran.
"The more we know, the better we forgive; Who feels deeply, feels for all who live."—Mme. De Staël.

A henchman describes Hitler as the greatest of all great men. And like the rest, the Fuehrer will probably end up as a bust.

Weygand

A Prediction Come True
John Gunther in "Inside Europe"
(Written Before the War)

GENERAL MAXIME WEYGAND retired as inspector-general of the French army when, early in 1935, he reached the age of 68. But there is little doubt that, if war should come, this peppy and shriveled little military priest, the man who wrought the "Miracle of Warsaw," would step out of retirement, become leader of the French armies once again.

He entered St. Cyr, the French equivalent of West Point, a tithe etanger (as a foreigner, since he was born in Belgium; rumor will not die that he is an illegitimate son of King Leopold II, the Belgian king). Joffre appointed him chief of staff to Foch after the first battle of the Marne, and he remained Foch's "right hand" (as Foch called him) all during the war. Foch, like Weygand, was a devout Catholic. The two generals prayed together at Mass every morning, before beginning the day's slaughter.

After the war Foch lent Weygand to the Poles; he reorganized the Polish army, vitalized it and won the battle before the gates of Warsaw which halted the Bolshevik invasion. The Poles, of course, never forgave him for having saved them. They did not claim the credit, but they didn't like it when other people did. Weygand, contrary to habit, was frank; both the Poles and the Russians were, he said, the worst armies in the world.

CLEMENCEAU'S opinion of Weygand is worth quoting: "Weygand is somebody. Ugly—he is ugly, misshapen, torturously twisted; he must have had a lot of kicks when he was little. But he is intelligent; he has something to him; a dark fire. He used to anger me at the Interallied Council. He is a man—how shall I say it?—dangerous, capable of going far in a moment of crisis, of hurling himself too far. . . . Dangerous, but precious. . . . He has one enormous quality: that of knowing how to do his work without talking or being talked about. He went to Poland. I don't know what he did up there, but what he did had to be done. He came back, didn't say anything. You don't know what he did or what he said. That's pretty good. . . . Foch wasn't stupid. But he had good-boy genius, simplicity. Weygand is something else, tender and profound. Of course, he's up to his neck in priests."

Weygand's Catholicism—he is a fanatical Catholic—naturally made him suspect of the Left. They accused him of political ambitions, of having turned St. Cyr into a royalist Catholic nest. Weygand was, before Poland and after, a bitter Bolshevik-hater. When he was governor-general of Syria, Herriot succeeded in ousting him; even now, he is not a marshal of France, although this is probably because of the technical point that only supreme army commanders may be marshals, and he was only chief-of-staff. Weygand is, naturally, the old white hope of the Right, and the terror-darling of the Fascist leagues.

THE KING'S UNIFORM

To the Editor:—The Royal Navy, Royal Air Force and H.M. Army uniform should be complete when worn on leave. Why are soldiers allowed on leave not regimentally dressed? War time or peace time, the King's uniform is a dress to be respected. If the government haven't uniforms for recruits who have answered the call for king and country, let a man wear civilian clothes, plus arm band until such time a man receives his complete uniform. If we are to uphold the British army tradition we should give the best example.

Better English

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "He is the youngest of the two brothers."

2. What is the correct pronunciation of "against"?

3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Chagrine, clandestine, sanguine.

4. What does the word "illiterate" mean?

5. What is a word beginning with ha that means "a large estate"?

Answers

1. Say, "He is the younger of the two brothers, the youngest of the three (or more) brothers." 2. Pronounce a-ge-nst, e as in men, not a-ge-nst. 3. Chagrine. 4. Unable to read; uneducated. "It is said there are more than 5,000,000 illiterate native-born citizens." 5. Hacienda.

SCOUT VOLUNTEERS

To the Editor:—At a time when our country is at war most of us would like to join the fighting forces of the King. Not all of us are able to do so, through age or ill-health.

Those who were in the last Great War, and left growing families at home to keep the home fires burning, must have often worried how mother was getting along with the boys; were they getting the wood in and doing the other hundred and one things that make a home complete, or were they going wild in the streets as boys sometimes do when there is no man at home?

What could be nicer for our men overseas to know than that their boys are in the Boy Scouts and learning how to look after themselves, cooking, woodcraft, health, first aid, knot tying and all the other things that go to make up scouting. Surely it would give our fighting men more confidence to fight for us. I'm sure it would save them a lot of worry.

During the last war the Boy Scouts more than doubled their numbers, and it must do even better this time. In Greater Victoria the Boy Scouts have lost over 50 of their leaders to army, navy and air force. Surely there are older men who will be quite willing to take their place? Men who have gone through the rougher stages of life, who have an understanding of what the boys have to face and so can teach them to be prepared.

Call in at your district scout hall and volunteer your services for this great work, or write Boy Scouts Association, 612 View Street.

Rover Leader.

Super-tanks Not Surprise

WASHINGTON—Germany's "surprise" tanks, 80-ton monsters carrying guns of three-inch or larger calibre, are not strictly surprise weapons to military men here. The existence of French tanks of practically the same size, carrying 75-millimeter cannon, was already well known. Moreover, as far back as the first World War, there were extra heavy tanks carrying a field gun apiece, with half a dozen or so machine guns as secondary batteries.

A number of these tanks, which were intended for breaching the Hindenburg Line, were built. They were under construction for about 18 months, but the Armistice was signed before they could be thrown into the expected last great battle. The Germans also had a very heavy type of tank, but it was ill designed and got helplessly stuck in ditches and small streams.

Tanks of this great size are built for special purposes, primarily for breaking through fortified lines, such as the extension of the Maginot Line, which the German super-tanks successfully breached. They are of relatively little use in open warfare of movement because they are so slow, and because their tremendous weight limits their movements to relatively even terrain and prevents them from crossing any save the heaviest bridges.

They are also tremendous guzzlers for fuel, of course, and this may possibly explain the reported slowing down of the German drive over the week-end of May 18-19.

Armor for super-tanks presents a problem. It takes good steel plate of approximately two inches' thickness to stop a 75-millimeter shell at moderate range, and not even this will turn the projectiles under the point-blank fire which the French are reported to be using. And even the biggest tanks cannot carry such armor all over themselves, but must limit it to observation and gun positions.

Incidentally, the new mounts for 75-millimeter guns and 105-millimeter howitzers are much superior to anything now being used by the French and English in their effort to stop the lumbering German monsters.

CANADIAN AIRMEN LISTED MISSING

LONDON (CP)—Four Canadians are named in the air ministry's latest announcement of casualties.

Killed in action—Pilot Officer R. W. H. Echlin, Ottawa, widow lives in London.

Missing—Flying Officer J. A. Campbell, mother lives in Nelson, B.C.

Missing—Pilot Officer Kenneth

Richard Lucas, father lives in St. Thomas, Ont.
Missing—G. R. Grattan, father lives at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.
The list, compiled in the last five days, covered an unspecified period. It showed 16 killed in action, 21 wounded in action and 144 missing. In addition, 21 were killed, five died and 12 were wounded on active service.

CALGARY (CP)—Pilot Officer Douglas William West Morris, 23, Royal Air Force, has been reported missing as the result of air operations on May 21, according to a cable received by his parents, Dr. S. C. W. and Mrs. Morris, Calgary. Morris was born in Moncton, N.B., and accompanied his parents to Calgary in 1929. He went to England in 1938 and joined the R.A.F. Stationed at Marham, Norfolk, he was captain of a Wellington bomber, according to word received by his parents in a letter. He married an English girl in February.

MINNEDOSA, Man. (CP)—Pilot Officer Philip Dyer, 27-year-old grandson of the late Brigadier-General Hugh M. Dyer of Minnedosa, is reported missing by the Air Ministry, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dyer, were informed today by cable. Dyer joined the Royal Air Force five years ago.

'Her Majesty' to Have Coronation

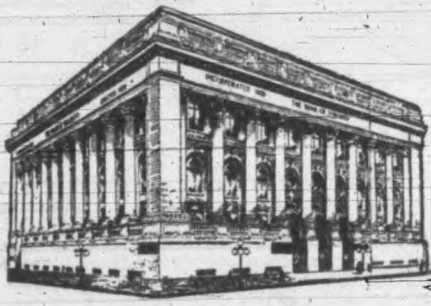

Plans are progressing favorably for "Saatchi Strawberry Week," and it was announced today that the Saatchi School Board had been requested to select three girls from the municipality's three high schools to participate in a queen contest.

The queen will be elected by a vote of the public on the week-long program, June 8 to 15. The runners-up will act as her attendants. The election of the queen has been referred to a committee of the three Saatchi high school principals.

The entertainment committee under the chairmanship of Warren W. Martin has planned a coronation for the queen on June 12 on the steps of the Parliament Buildings, the whole ceremony to be conducted with the pomp and dignity of a real coronation. The Victoria Girls' Drill Team will act as official escort for the queen's party.

Following the ceremony, it is planned to have a downtown entertainment program for the public, although details for this have not been worked out yet. There will be other features for "Strawberry Week," which will be announced later.

The whole show is being arranged by committees of the Saatchi Board of Trade, Saatchi Fruit Growers' Association, Saatchi School Board and the Victoria Chamber of Commerce tourist trade group.

BRINGS GREATER EFFICIENCY TO AGRICULTURE

TODAY Empire industry prepares to produce as never before. Unfailing supplies of food are the first essential. Farm production must be geared to its highest efficiency. More farm machinery, trucks and tractors will swing into service. Breakdowns and costly delays must stop. Manufacturers are relying on Nickel Steel and Nickel Cast Iron to give extra strength, toughness and resistance to wear, breakage and corrosion.

All branches of Empire industry are being speeded up. Transportation systems purchase new locomotives and freight cars. Mines and automotive plants install new machinery. The lumbering, textile, meat packing and petroleum industries strip for action. Canadian Nickel is employed in practically every machine and appliance to give long life and to prevent costly breakdowns.

Canadian Nickel, so vital to industry in normal times, becomes more vital than ever in gearing Empire industry to meet today's demands.

FIRST UNITED Y.P.A. BANQUET

First United Church Y.P.U. annual banquet, presided over by Douglas Balfour, received greetings from Ralph D. Matthews, chairman of the board of managers, and from Miss Mary Lou-down, a member of First United Y.P.U. and the president of Lower Island Presbyterian Y.P.U. Miss Lou-down reminded the young people of the coming activities: the Western Y.P.U. convention in Calgary, the Y.P.U. camp at Ocean Park, and the leadership training school in the fall.

Miss Marie McDougall, Deaconess, spoke in appreciation of those who had carried the responsibility of the program during the year. Miss McDougall emphasized that the Y.P.U. was not just a social club but was a training school for the Christian leaders of the church and state of tomorrow. Jay Pogson gave vocal solos which were enjoyed by all.

Rev. Thos. Menzies of First United Church, a pioneer missionary preacher in British Columbia and Alberta, among Canadian Indians, East Indians, Mormons, Doukhobors and Mennonites, gave an interesting address.

Soldiers' Poems From England

Army poets are springing up in all units and while most of their efforts are forgotten almost as soon as they are conceived others will live on, like some of the priceless pieces from the First Great War.

The Seaford Highlanders of Vancouver now in England have brought forward a promising poet in Private R. Fraser. Two of his poems, printed under the caption, "Random Rhymes," have been forwarded to Mr. and Mrs. William Leonard, 1135 King's Road, by their son, Private J. A. Leonard, who is serving with the Princess Pats. Private Leonard's father served overseas in the First Great War with the 88th Battery, C.F.A.

The poems by Pte. Fraser are as follows:

"HERE WE ARE AGAIN"
There's a stiff sea breeze a-blowing
O'er the broad and boundless sea,
There's a convoy making headway

Tae a land that's dear tae me,
For the Mother Country's calling us

To where she stands at bay,
Once more we've heard the rally,
The Canucks are on the way.

From the broad Canadian prairie
We have answered Britain's call,
From the cities, from the homesteads,

We have come and left our all,
So Britons keep your chins up,
Our debt to you we'll pay,
Thanks to your Royal Navy
The Canucks are on the way.

The boys are penning letters home,
"Dear Sweetheart, I am well,
But my prairie home is haunting me,

This sea life sure is hell,
How are all the children keeping?
Say, kid, this life is hard!
I'm on fatigue scrubbing floors
Or else I'm stuck on guard."

"The grub is good, the quarters grand,
But money gets me down,
I can't tell a florin

From a gold-darned half-a-crown,
Be sure and send a pair of socks,
I'll see you all some day;
Now I'll close, remember Sweetheart,

The Canucks are on the way."

Somewhere up in his eagle's nest
Herr Hitler swears in vain;
"Mein Gott" der British Navy
Has fooled me once again.

My Columbus she is scuttled,
Alas, my poor Graf Spee—
Gott strafe der British Navy,
I thought I ruled the sea."

So a Merry Christmas, Hitler,
"Tis your final one, I fear,
We Canadians will tend to that
'Til the end of this coming year.

And Somewhere on the Western Front,
You'll hear a new refrain:
"We gave you hell at Vimy Ridge
And here we are again."

"THE PASSIN' O' THE KILT"
There is weepin' aye an' wallin'
'mang the Seaforths' fighting men.

They've waited for a lang, lang time on uniforms, ye ken,
Noo the great day has arrived at last their herts are in their boots,

The McKenzie tartan's oot of date,
Behold the monkey suits.

Nae mair the lads will strut doon
toon a-wearin' o' the kilt,
Displaying tae the lassies hoo
they're well and truly built;

For her bonnie Hielan' laddie noo,
a lass don't give a hoot,
For they've traded his braw tartan for a measly monkey suit.

Ye can look back intae history an'
pride ye'll surely feel
When readin' o' the deeds performed wi' tartan, pipes an' steel.

What future honors we will win
I sometimes hae ma doots,
Whene'er I cast a fletlin' glance at those blamed monkey suits.

An' why the change, ye'll maybe ask, get Hitler to explain.
He has a brand o' mustard gas
to cause the kilties pain;

It bilsters a' their hairy legs, so blame his German brutes
For the passin' o' the tartan, an'
the age o' monkey suits.

The day will surely come at last when we will get our chance
Tae the skirlin' o' the bagpipes
the Seaforths will advance;

An' we'll down them sausage
eaters with bayonets and boots:
We'll look a' richt wi' medals pinned upon our monkey suits.

OTTAWA (CP)—Wilfrid Eggleston, well-known Ottawa newspaperman and press censor, has been appointed to serve with Fulgence Charpentier as joint press censor for Canada, State Secretary Pierre Casgrain announced. He succeeds C. J. Harratty, who retired May 1 on account of ill health.

5th Column

Four Provinces Pledge Support

Four Canadian provinces, backed by numerous municipalities and public bodies, have lent their official support to the nation-wide drive to crush subversive "fifth column" activities in the Dominion.

Manitoba, Ontario and Alberta followed the lead set by Premier Pattullo of British Columbia, who pledged the full co-operation of his government in any move against undermining influences and announced steps to curb subversive influences in the civil service.

In Ottawa, Hon. Norman Rogers, Defence Minister, told the House of Commons, the provision of home guards in municipalities is receiving the attention of "the departments concerned."

T. Z. Church (Conservative, Toronto-Broadview) raised the question and said he had a large number of requests from municipalities throughout Canada indicating that they would like, in days such as these, to have the protection of a home guard.

Alberta government officials said today they are guarding against the possibility of any alien or "fifth column" activities in the civil service.

"While our policy is not to employ aliens, it is possible that some get by on the temporary staff and we are watching that contingency as closely as possible," said one official.

HOME DEFENCE FORCE

From Winnipeg came the announcement by Attorney-General J. J. Major that Lieut.-Col. H. J. Riley had been appointed chairman of a special home defence force committee for Manitoba.

The committee will be free to arrange organization of volunteer units to assist in the maintenance of law and order.

In the east, the Ontario Attorney-General, Hon. Gordon Conant, disclosed he had sent a wire to Defence Minister Norman Rogers pressing for immediate drafting of home defence measures.

The request was made in the face of insistent municipal demands for home-guard units.

MORE PROTECTION

At Montreal the Board of Trade demanded increased immediate protection against sabotage. A resolution addressed to the Dominion government asked for provision of adequate funds for protective services in plants, offices, business firms and private homes.

An open letter addressed to Mr. Rogers by the Canadian Machine Gun (Overseas) Association at Toronto said: "We believe... you will appreciate the value of having available some 1,500 ex-Vickers machine gunners in the Toronto area alone. There are strong associations in Windsor, Vancouver, Hamilton and other cities, all of whom... will gladly co-operate in any scheme in which you may require them."

The Hamilton, Ont., branch of the Amputations' Association has suggested United States tourists entering Canada should be required to obtain a passport to "help eliminate the danger of infiltration of 'fifth columnists'."

At Trail, B.C. the Association of Kootenay Municipalities "emphatically endorsed" the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association's resolution asking the Dominion government to intern all enemy aliens, investigate all persons of alien origin, whether naturalized or not, and to confiscate their guns and explosives.

MILITARY UNIT ASKED

The Princeton Board of Trade supported the suggestion of the local Canadian Legion branch that the government establish a military unit in the Similkameen

Valley and the demand that enemy aliens be interned.

At Edmonton last night 1,700 Great War veterans approved resolutions urging vigorous action be taken to wipe out any "fifth column" subversive activities in Edmonton and district and requested federal authorization to form local units of a volunteer defence force in Canada.

Edmonton Chamber of Commerce appointed a special committee to consider home defence "and subversive activity by any who would disturb the peace," and forwarded a statement to federal authorities which urged "sterner action in dealing with people of subversive possibilities."

SECRET MEETINGS

At Trochu, Alberta, following rumors of alleged secret meetings of German residents in the district which is 125 miles north-east of Calgary, 75 citizens gathered to form a volunteer home defence organization.

In Toronto Dr. Charlotte Whitton, executive of the Canadian Welfare Council, proposed to the Canadian Conference on Social Work the formation in Canada of a "sixth column," to comprise the volunteer effort that would be ready to meet any emergency, an effort in which women would be included.

"We must realize that the torch of life of the British Empire may soon be passed into the keeping of this Dominion," she said.

Rogers Confident

But Urges Speed

OTTAWA (CP)—No time must be lost in pressing Canada's preparations and in increasing the weight of the Dominion's contribution to the Allied fight against Germany, says Hon. Norman Rogers.

The Minister of National Defence, addressing the nation over the network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, expressed faith the Allies would triumph and thanked Canadians for their efforts of assistance to the government, which he termed "the inevitable reaction of a people with pride of race and tradition."

He gave to the people a report of the war effort and plans for the future along the lines the House of Commons heard Monday and Tuesday from himself and Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

In these circumstances it is our duty to examine the means by which we can give immediately increased aid to the Allied cause," said Mr. Rogers. "This is being done as rapidly and as exhaustively as possible. Not a minute must be lost."

GRAVITY APPARENT

The gravity of the present situation had become clear to every one of us," said the minister.

"The government at Ottawa has been inundated with offers of assistance from individuals and various associations."

These, Mr. Rogers said, had been so numerous that prompt replies could not be sent in all cases, but he wished to assure the persons concerned that these efforts were "profoundly appreciated" and were being given the "closest attention."

"The dark side of the picture is plain for all to see," he declared. "There is no need for emphasis. But I shall never lose confidence in the ability of the French staff, backed by such an army and surrounded by such a people, to reform the Allied lines."

Road Works Aid Sought By B.C.

Dominion assistance for a $2,000,000 public works program in British Columbia will be sought by the provincial government, Hon. C. S. Leary, Minister of Public Works, said today.

Premier Pattullo and Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, leave for the east today.

Mr. Leary will not accompany them, but he explained that hopes of conducting any large scale road improvements in the province this year depended on the outcome of their negotiations.

The public works department is particularly concerned about the surfacing and improvement of main road arteries leading from the U.S. border to the British Columbia highway system.

These include the new King George Highway on the lower mainland.

The proposal is the Dominion contribute on a dollar-for-dollar basis with the province and finance the province's share, he said. It is hoped a $2,000,000 program can be arranged.

"We are spending a considerable sum to attract tourists to the province this year as part of the national campaign to get foreign credits established," he said. "We must maintain and improve our road system."

ST. JOHN'S A.Y.P.A.

St. John's A.Y.P.A. will elect officers at a meeting next Tuesday.

Sunday, June 2, will be corporate Communion.

HERE SATURDAY ON YACHT TRIP

A party of 50 Tacoma businessmen, headed by Mayor J. J. Kaufman and Mayor-elect Harry P. Cain, members of the Ambassadors Club of Tacoma will arrive in Victoria noon Saturday on a yachting trip, George I. Warren, managing secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, learned today.

The party will travel by private yacht. Golfing and sightseeing will take up their time in the city. They will stay Saturday night and leave 9:30 Sunday morning for a cruise in the straits.

Pictures of the Parliament Buildings, the Inner Harbor, Beacon Hill Park, Goldstream and the Malahat Drive have been forwarded to the Evergreen Playground Association of Washington and British Columbia to be distributed among several large newspapers of the coast.

The newspapers to receive the pictures of local scenes include the Los Angeles Times, Examiner and Herald Express, the San Francisco Examiner, News and Chronicle, the Oakland Tribune, the Honolulu Star Bulletin, the Fresno Bee and the Sacramento Bee.

Northwest Realtors Meet at Portland

The 1940 annual northwest regional conference of the National Association of Real Estate Boards at Portland has been timed to coincide with the Portland Rose Festival, being held Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 6, 7 and 8.

Every realtor, board member and licensed broker in the state of Idaho, Montana, Washington, Wyoming, the province of British Columbia and in Oregon will be urged to make their attendance at the conference part of a holiday trip—taking in the rose festival the same week.

The hosts, the Portland Realty Board, plan to furnish every out-of-town delegate a rose festival button, which will admit them free of charge to all the activities of this great celebration. And there will be many other forms of entertainment besides.

Proves Beauty Is Really Skin Deep

Miss Iris Wanamaker, representative of the Charles of the Ritz Beauty Salon in New York, is at present at the Owl Drug Co. Limited, with a full line of famous beauty preparations. Giving a maximum result with a minimum of effort is Miss Wanamaker's slogan, and after watching her work, one realizes she knows exactly what is necessary for every girl and woman to have a healthy, vital-looking skin. Every treatment is individualized. There is a Charles of the Ritz cleansing cream, foundation cream and nourishing cream for every type of skin. Shades of make-up, too, are all individualized. Harmonizing skin tones to fashion tones is an art that this famous salon has completely mastered. Miss Wanamaker is adept at blending powder. From the 500 shades she works with there emerges a proper tone for everyone.

Miss Wanamaker will be in Victoria this week only, but it is of interest to know that Charles of the Ritz Beauty preparations will be found at the Owl Drug Co. Limited from now on.

Weddings

HOWARD-EMERY

At the home of the officiating clergyman, Rev. A. Hugh McLeod, Belmont Avenue, at 2:30 this afternoon the marriage of Viola, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Emery of 2639 Rose Street, and Mr. Lawrence Howard, second son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Howard of 886 Austin Avenue, was solemnized.

Mr. Emery gave his daughter in marriage and she wore a dress of sky blue silk crepe, with accessories in the new rosebowl shade. Her hat and veil matched her dress and her corsage bouquet was of rosebuds and freesias. She was attended by Miss Esther Corness, wearing a dusty pink dress, with hat to match, and French blue accessories and a corsage bouquet of pink rosebuds. The bridegroom was supported by his brother, Mr. Herbert Howard.

At the conclusion of the wedding ceremony, a small reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride and bridegroom left later to visit up the island and will make their home at 3034 Colquhoun on their return.

The bride's aunts, Mrs. F. Butler and Mrs. Jack Mullaly of Vancouver, came over to Victoria for the wedding.

Engagements

MILLER-DE LURE

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. de Lure, Herd Road, Somenos, Duncan, announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Denise Lisette, (Babe) to Mr. Walter George Miller, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Miller, Island Highway North, Duncan.

Proves Beauty Is Really Skin Deep

Miss Iris Wanamaker, representative of the Charles of the Ritz Beauty Salon in New York, is at present at the Owl Drug Co. Limited, with a full line of famous beauty preparations. Giving a maximum result with a minimum of effort is Miss Wanamaker's slogan, and after watching her work, one realizes she knows exactly what is necessary for every girl and woman to have a healthy, vital-looking skin. Every treatment is individualized. There is a Charles of the Ritz cleansing cream, foundation cream and nourishing cream for every type of skin. Shades of make-up, too, are all individualized. Harmonizing skin tones to fashion tones is an art that this famous salon has completely mastered. Miss Wanamaker is adept at blending powder. From the 500 shades she works with there emerges a proper tone for everyone.

Miss Wanamaker will be in Victoria this week only, but it is of interest to know that Charles of the Ritz Beauty preparations will be found at the Owl Drug Co. Limited from now on.

Rev. and Mrs. L. R. Donaldson of Halifax, who are visiting Mrs. Donaldson's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Payzant, McClure Street, will leave on Saturday for Vancouver on their way to visit their son, Rev. John Donaldson at Spirit River before returning to their home in Nova Scotia.

Mrs. C. P. Milne, Douglas Street, entertained at a small luncheon party today in compliment to Mrs. J. J. Johnston of the Stobart Apartments, who was celebrating her 79th birthday.

The table was arranged with flowers and centred with the handsome birthday cake, and Mrs. Johnston received many flowers and other gifts and good wishes. Others present included Rev. Flora Frampton, Mrs. Jack Chilton, Mrs. Dan Mowatt and Mrs. Hamilton.

Miss Josephine Lois Cook, whose marriage to Bombardier Nelson Hepburn, R.C.A., takes place on Tuesday evening when Mrs. J. Blanshard, Cloverdale Avenue, entertained at a miscellaneous shower. The many attractive gifts were piled around a sentry box, in front of which a miniature soldier stood guard. The floral decorations were in red, white and blue, and supper was served from a prettily arranged table. Those present included Mesdames Mesher, Jarvis, O'Regan, Parker, Perdue, Nal-Smith and Lindley, and the Misses L. Lindley, Isabel Jarvis, Peggy Watson, Margaret George and Mary Newman.

The staff of David Spencer's Credit Office gathered Monday evening at the home of Mr. J. A. Grant, St. Charles Street, on the occasion of his retirement from the firm, after 44 years' service. During the evening Mr. O. M. Prentice, on behalf of the office staff presented Mr. Grant with an illuminated address, in appreciation of the happy and harmonious relations they had enjoyed and wishing him many happy years of well-earned leisure. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Grant, and the Misses Kay Clarke, Isabel Gibson, Evelyn Ledson, Bernice Unwin, Kitty Cameron, Joyce Gibson, Phyllis Alexander, Nancy Boyd, Mary Sparrowhawk, Mona Morgan, Ruth Wallace, Biddy Boyce, Dorothy Brooks, Norah Colleen, Carol Boyer, Winnie Cadwallader, Joyce Finch, Pat Preston, May Smith, Margaret Elrick and Mr. O. A delightful tea was held Saturday afternoon at the Y.W.C.A. under the auspices of the Tuckabatchee Club. Mrs. McGill, Mrs. A. Morson and Miss Jane Hall poured tea from a prettily appointed table, covered with a lace cloth, centred with flowers and green candles in silver holders. Guests were received by the president, Mrs. A. Davies, and sat at charmingly-decorated tables at the flower-centred tea table. The guests of the Tuckabatchee Club were: Mrs. McGill, Mrs. A. Morson and Miss Jane Hall. The guests of the Tuckabatchee Club were: Mrs. McGill, Mrs. A. Morson and Miss Jane Hall.

The idea was born at a meeting of 75 members of the National Legion of Mothers of America, many of whom received actual instruction in arms from Lieut. Arthur Lockwood of the United States Naval Reserve, who attended the meeting.

Mrs. Edna L. Johnston, acting regional director of the Legion's New York and New Jersey division, said the legion now comprising 2,000,000 members, expected to double its membership by July 30.

Eventually, she said, 2,000,000 American women were expected to own rifles for use in the anti-parachutist corps.

Kathleen Norris, the author, is president of the legion. George, Nancy Hepburn, Eva Mason and Maitie Griffin. Dainty refreshments were served from a table centred with red roses in a silver rose bowl. Mrs. H. Cook presided at the coffee urn and Mrs. J. T. Hepburn poured tea. Social and Personal Summer Program Is Launched By 'Y'

The activities of the Senior Girls' Department for the summer months are outlined in an attractive folder, which is available at the office, and all senior girls, whether members of the club department or strangers to the city, will be welcome. In June, July and August these outings will take place on Monday and Thursday evenings, and in May and September on Thursday evenings only. Beach parties, go-and-se trips, socials, educational evenings, hikes, etc., will be included in the wide variety to be offered.

The second in the series of summer dances sponsored by the Y.W.C.A. will be held on Tuesday, June 4, from 9 to 12, at the Chamber of Commerce hall, where music will be provided by Fred Pitt's four-piece orchestra and refreshments will be served. These dances are planned particularly to assist in providing recreation for the men in the three services. Acting on the committee are: Mrs. Ross Crane, Mrs. John Parnall, Mrs. Archie Gibbs, Mrs. Hobart Molson, Miss Sara Spencer, Miss Blanch Alward, Miss Doris McBain, Miss Ida Pearce and Miss Lorna Wilson.

For junior girls, 12 to 16, the Y.W.C.A. offers the holiday camp at Galiano Island. This camp is directed by members of the Vancouver "Y" staff, and is situated in an excellent spot for summer holidaying. The activities are many and varied, including land and water sports, hiking, nature lore, hand crafts, dramatics and music. Further information may be secured by getting in touch with the girls' work secretary.

Members of the Versatile Club are the guests of Capt. and Mrs. Beaumont this afternoon for an outing on the "Discovery Isle," the first outing of this kind for the summer.

Must Ensure Germans Live Under Own Flag

Says Dr. K. Pakstas, Lithuanian Professor, in Address to Women's Canadian Club on Territorial Adjustments Necessary After the War.

"The key to the problem of Europe is a just and proper distribution of territory, and seeing to it that every individual state is given the opportunity to live its own life in its own way, according to its own individual, cultural standards. Germany does not recognize this right, but maintains that she alone is entitled to breathing space. . . . In adjusting territorial rights in Europe after the war, we must ensure the removal of German minorities and see to it that all Germans are brought under the German flag and allowed to live nowhere else. Recent experiences in Norway and Holland show how necessary such a step is to the peace of Europe."

The foregoing summed up the argument adduced by Dr. Kazys Pakstas, distinguished Lithuanian professor and geographer, in his timely address before the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon on the subject of "The Problem of Territorial Justice for the Future Peace Conference."

CONFEDERATION OF EUROPE

Expressing the belief that the cause of all wars is the improper and unjust distribution of territory, and not raw materials, Dr. Pakstas touched upon the differences in culture, language and concept of life between the many states which constitute Europe. "And when we think about a permanent peace in Europe, we must think about the similarities and the differences of these peoples. If we adopt a provincial attitude towards them, nothing will reconcile these divergent standards. We must have a wide political and cultural horizon if we are to reconcile this heterogeneous collection of states into a confederation of Europe," he maintained.

DOCTRINE OF MEgalostatism

Affirming that the smaller states, while each wanting their own small space, did not deny the same rights to others, Dr. Pakstas observed that they would never admit German interests in Europe to be superior to anyone else's.

There are two different schools of political geography in Europe. One is megalostatism, the belief that the biggest state is the only one that has the right to existence and must become bigger by taking space from others and of which Germany is the chief proponent. The other is microstatism, which recognizes the right of the smaller states to existence, and of this belief Great Britain is the strongest proponent and is now fighting valiantly to uphold that belief," he said.

Dr. Pakstas recalled that Hitler's doctrine is the modern German version of Von Moltke's idea that sooner or later all Europe would be united under the German flag and that the other nationalities were of use only as "fertilizer for good German fields."

EXCHANGE OF MINORITIES

With the aid of maps, Dr. Pakstas showed suggested post-war alterations in European boundaries which would require the exchange of minorities. He recalled the exchange of populations between Greece and Turkey in 1921, since when the two countries had lived amicably, and noted that since the Germans in Latvia and Estonia had, after 700 years, been returned to Germany, these two small states had lost their fear of Germany. "They are jubilant because they have lost their German 'friends' and no need no longer fear a 'fifth column'," he noted.

With such exchanges of minorities and readjustments of territory, the way would be clear to a confederation in Europe, which the speaker envisioned as a dream whose realization was well worth hoping for. He spoke with admiration of the present federation between Britain and France, and expressed the view that the separation of these two countries after the Great War was a big mistake.

OFFICERS ELECTED

Mrs. James Adam, the president, was in the chair yesterday. The meeting adopted the report of the nominating committee, brought in by the convener, Mrs. S. J. Willis, this being as follows: President, Mrs. James Adam; first vice-president, Mrs. T. H. Johns; second vice-president, Mrs. F. G. Aldous; honorary secretary, Mrs. A. J. Campbell; literature secretary, Mrs. J. H. Fletcher; and treasurer, Mrs. W. C. Fyfe.

Executive: Mesdames G. F. Amyot, John Baxter, F. M. Bryant, K. C. Drury, S. H. Frame, D. H. Hartness, Bruce Hutchison, T. A. Johnston, R. D. McCaw, B. C. Richards, Howard Taylor, Alma Wilson and Rupert Wick.

The next meeting, to be held on Tuesday, June 4, will be the annual meeting. It was announced, beginning at 2.30 p.m. instead of 2.45. The noted Shakespearean actors, Allan Wilkie and Friedeswyde Hunter-Watts, will give a recital of scenes from Shakespeare, Sheridan and Richard La Gallienne.

First Aid Women to Attend Meeting

All women holding St. John Ambulance first aid and home nursing certificates and willing to render voluntary service under the local Civilian Protection Committee, in the event of an emergency, are requested to attend a meeting to be held at 534 Broughton Street at 8 p.m. on Saturday. Please be prepared to furnish dates or numbers of certificates.

Church Anniversary

A large congregation, including a number of people formerly resident in the parish, attended the 50th anniversary service of All Saints', Westholme, on Sunday morning last. Among the clergy present were two former incumbents, Rev. W. Barton and Rev. B. E. Spurling; Rev. Canon Hughes, rural dean, and Venerable Archdeacon Robert Connell. The latter preached an appropriate sermon, in which he drew on his memories of pioneer days and personalities and called upon his hearers to maintain the pioneer spirit of tackling the problems of the day and the giving of one's best in the church and in the world. The singing was led by the combined choirs of St. Michael's, Chemainus, and All Saints', Westholme, under the direction of C. W. Laubach. The anthem, "The Lord's My Shepherd," was rendered.

The grounds had been put in order for the occasion and a new concrete walk laid from the gate to the church porch.

There was also a celebration of Holy Communion.

The children of the Sunday school had their anniversary service at 2.30, at which they lit 60 candles placed around a model of All Saints' Church.

STRAWBERRY VALE

Wilkinson Road United Church women's auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. A. J. Rainer, Loeholme Road, Tuesday afternoon. It was arranged to hold a strawberry tea and sale of home cooking at the home of Mrs. Rainer on Wednesday afternoon, June 12, from 3 to 5. The next meeting in June will be held at the home of Mrs. Ransome, Wilkinson Road.

Teachers and officers of Wilkinson Road United Church Sunday school met at a supper party at the home of Rev. and Mrs. W. Allan Monday evening to tender farewell to Miss Muriel Hoy who is leaving for Ottawa. In presenting a small gift, Mrs. W. Allison wished her every good wish in her new work.

Mrs. Norman Collins, Falkland Road, was hostess at a tea party yesterday afternoon, given in honor of Mrs. L. G. Macdonald of Kenora, Ontario. Mrs. W. A. Greene presided at the prettily-appointed tea table, and Miss Hazel Kitt assisted in serving.

By PETE SALLAWAY
CLEANINGS FROM the soft-ball front: Managers, players and umpires should get together on their ground rules for engagements at the Athletic Park. In a game the other night practically every other play called for a discussion at the home plate with either of the managers or field captains lodging a protest against some ruling by the officials. Such delays slow up the game and get the crowd impatient.

It would be a smart move for all the managers to take their players out to a vacant lot and treat them to an evening of instruction on how to punt. Time after time players step up to the plate, with the punt signal on, and they are helpless. In other words, they have no more idea of how to lay the ball down than a rooster has of laying an egg. It is just a waste of time and often results in the man at the plate popping into a double play. It is time the managers or coaches wised up to themselves.

Another smart move would be to tell the outfielders to forget the idea of playing miles deep in the outer gardens. The other night we saw two fly balls that should have been certain outs go for home runs. The fielders, playing in positions more suited for second outfielders, tried desperately to make the catches with no chance and, as a result, the balls got away from them.

Box lacrosse games at the Willows have been receiving fine support from the public, but repetition of Wednesday night's little incident, when the Jokers-Bays clash was held up for minutes while the referees demanded the return of a ball from kids in the stands will tend to sour the fans. Conservatively speaking, play was halted for at least four minutes, while officials and a man in blue argued with the sprats over possession of a ball that jumped the screen. Meanwhile, the fans hollered for play to continue. Surely the lacrosse association is not in such a state that it has to worry about the loss of a ball that crowd in the history of the less than five cents. We have heard much criticism over the affair.

Hurrah Kate, beautiful brown mare owned by Mrs. H. J. Hutton Fisher of this city, gave an outstanding performance at the recent civic horse show in Portland, to capture top honors. This horse is becoming well known up and down the Pacific coast and her latest achievement adds still further honors to her rapidly growing list.

We quote from the Portland Oregonian:

"Hurrah Kate collected plenty of hurrahs and cheers from the largest crowd in the history of the show as she skipped over the 10 tough and tricky hurdles in near perfect style. Without a balk or misstep the Victoria horse took all jumps, including a high-picket fence barrier, in fast stride and quickly gained the nod of Mrs. Ruth L. Halverson, show judge. And to make it an all 'foreign' triumph, Hurrah Kate was ridden by Iris Bryan of Tacoma."

Loeffler Wins And Loses Bout

VANCOUVER (CP) — Young Stan Sowden of Vancouver copped the 174-pound Canadian amateur wrestling crown here last night by a short cut, but the way will not be so easy for grapplers seeking six other Dominion wrestling crowns when the trials resume tonight.

Sowden, who recently won the British Columbia crown, brought laurels to the Vancouver International Sports Club, when he defeated Vic Baldwin of the Vancouver Pro Rec Club after 12 minutes of his first round match. Then officials announced Bob Smillie of Calgary had failed to arrive on time and Eric McIlhargey couldn't make the weight.

Sowden automatically became the new Dominion champion. The fights resume in the Western Sports Centre tonight and the other titles will be decided then.

Two defending champions—Jack Whalen, Vancouver heavy-weight, and Vern Pettigrew, Regina, 134-pounder—were the class of the show. Both were favored to retain their titles tonight after their showings in the preliminary skirmishes.

An upset was Ruddy Loeffler's second-round win over Ed. Wildeman, Vancouver Pro Rec squirmier.

The blonde Victorian lost his first round 145-pound match to Bob Cleator of the Vancouver International Sports Club by a fall which came after eight minutes.

When he met Wildeman in the next match, Loeffler proved master of strategy and strength. He had the Vancouver boy down in 4:45.

EAGLES TRIUMPH

Second division Eagles, playing fine ball behind the one-hit pitching of Scroggs, their mound ace, coasted to a 9 to 1 victory over Brown Bombers last night at Beacon Hill Park. The Eagles are right on the heels of the pace-setting Cubs.

Scroggs was in splendid form for the feathered tribe. He struck out 15.

The score went into a 1 to 1 tie in the second frame, but from then on it was plain sailing for the Eagles. Doug Hudlin started for Bombers on the hill, but was taken out in favor of Kirkbride in the fourth.

Score by innings:

Brown Bombers — 0 10 0 0 0 0 1
Eagles — 1 1 2 4 0 9
Batteries — Hudlin, Kirkbride and Alexander; Scroggs and Miles. Umpire, Burton.

Tonight at Beacon Hill Cedar Hill Athletics and Navy will meet in a second division encounter.

Exhibition Golf

Considerable interest is being shown in the exhibition golf match being staged at Colwood on the afternoon of June 2, between Phil Taylor and Allan Taylor and Ted Colgate of Colwood. The entire proceeds of the match will be handed over to the Red Cross.

The following players will represent Victoria West in their soccer match against Victoria City Saturday: T. and C. Restell, Murray, Gent, Leggett, Loran, Kennedy, Cooper, Travis, Williams, Holness, Robinson, J. K. R. O'Neil, Kitching, Munroe, Dallimore, Duncan, Embrey and Gornall.

Prospects Brighter

Anglers Plan Week-end

Good fishing weather has finally arrived — here to stay, the boys hope — and with it an increased desire on the part of members of the angling fraternity to test their skill with rod and reel and line in popular fresh and salt water fishing spots.

There has been considerable activity in local angling circles this week as rodmen and women prepared for a week-end of their favorite sport. And provided the weatherman does not pull a last-minute double-cross a good yield should be the order in trout waters.

While some members of the rod crowd will only be able to spend one or a couple of days over the holiday week-end fishing, there are others who have planned "three-day" fishing "holes" on the island. The warm weather of this week should have produced good fly hatches and the fly-fishers are looking for improved sport over the week-end. Trolling is good in some lower island lakes.

According to latest reports the upper reaches of the Cowichan

River are producing some nice trout for fly fishermen.

Cowichan Lake is also hitting a good fishing stride at this time, around McKenzie Point, Goat Island and Marble Bay being best spots. Shawinigan Lake is recommended as a good week-end spot, and fair sport should also be found at Kemp, Prospect and Thetis Lakes. Going farther up island, Campbell Lake, Kitching, Munroe, Dallimore, Duncan, Embrey and Gornall.

AT BRENTWOOD

Although it is the "in-between" season at the Brentwood salmon-fishing grounds, rodmen can count on bagging a few over the week-end. There are said to be quite a quantity of jacksprings around. Most are being caught close to the rocks.

From Cowichan Bay comes a report that fishermen experimenting with Brentwood tackle — in other words fishing deep — are getting some good results at this time. A fisher bagged a nine-pounder the other day and the professionals there say there appear to be a fair number of small springs around.

SCHOOL CHAMPIONS—In the second annual track and field meet of the Central Junior High School, held yesterday afternoon at the Athletic Park, Daphne Stansby and Edgar Perry, captured the senior aggregate championships.

Variety of Events For Victoria Day

Victoria Day celebrations here tomorrow will start at 1.30 at the Willows with an interesting program of sports, air raid protection exhibitions, contests of various kinds, a parade, street dancing and concert, grand bazaar and auction, continuing through the afternoon and evening.

Arranged by the Civic Celebrations Committee under the chairmanship of Alderman W. H. Davies, proceeds from the various functions will be given to the Queen Alexandra-Solarmium for crippled children.

The first event on the program at the Willows at 1.30 will be a demonstration of the activities of the Victoria Metropolitan District Civilian Protection Committee under the direction of Capt. William Ellis, assisted by Petty Officer E. MacFayden, R.C.N. Frame houses have been constructed and will be demolished by the fire brigade, ambulance corps, decontamination squads, wardens and other forces will go to work and show what is done to save life and property at such a time.

This will be followed by a sports program at 2. There will be tug-of-war contests, flat races, obstacle races, a marathon, sack race, backward race, three-legged race, an interservice shuttle race, bandman's race, pie-eating contest, pillow fight, mounted wrestling, tilting the water bucket, high jump and events for school children.

There will be a bicycle race for Colonist and Times carriers, motorcycle event, ladies' horse race, a polo game, men's horse race, a battle royal between teams from the services and a perfect male and female contest.

Starting at 7, the evening's festivities will present a fancy dress parade and parade to line up at the corner of Yates and Ormond Streets (Junior Central High School) with George Allison in charge.

Entries will be accepted at the starting point. Cash prizes will be given, the judging to take place at the conclusion of the parade at the Cecil Hotel grounds, Blanshard and Johnson Streets.

One section will be for fancy or comic dress, boys and girls; another for decorated bicycles, boys and girls; pet parade in costume, boys and girls of grade and high school age, and adults. In the parade there will be a comic display by city firemen and a float entered by the Chinese Benevolent Society. The parade will proceed down Yates Street to Blanshard where the judging will be held.

Street dancing will start on Blanshard Street between Yates (Turn to Page 18, Col. 5)

Walling Back For Auto Races

Claude Walling, Portland automobile racing pilot, who will remain in the minds of local followers of the thrilling sport for many years as the boy who cheated death in a spectacular accident during the opening race meet of the 1940 season last Saturday, will be back at the Langford Speedway this Saturday along with four other American drivers and their cars.

Walling returned to his home town last Sunday after being released from Jubilee Hospital suffering from severe shock and bruises as a result of his car turning over and throwing him from the cockpit in the opening race.

This Saturday he will be driving the No. 5 car, which spun in front of him, causing the crack-up. Seth Renning, driver of the wagon in the opener, will not be here.

Lou McMurtry, Seattle, one of the most popular visiting drivers, will make his first appearance of the season driving No. 6, a new car which is reported to be one of the fastest in the Sound City. He was scheduled to appear last week, but was unable to leave town due to a throat infection.

Jimmy Symes, also of Seattle, will be on hand with the No. 4 car, and Chic Barbo, Portland, will be at the wheel of No. 27 car. Barbo turned in a grand performance last week in No. 70. No. 27 will be remembered as the car which Symes put out in front in many races here last year.

The fifth driver from the United States will be Ralph Taylor of Tacoma, who will pilot No. 70. Taylor is rated high as a driver and should add a lot of color to the show.

Local drivers will be headed by Digger Caldwell in No. 1, who was unable to race last Saturday. Jack Spaulding, the little man who is always there with a big cigar, will be driving No. 6, and Jerry Vantright will be at the wheel of No. 7. Don Vantright, brother of Jerry, will pilot No. 3 and Sid Holderidge will drive No. 5. Buddy Green will again be at the throttle of the No. 23 car, in which he cleaned up at last Saturday's meet.

The time trials will start at 7.45 and the main event will be 30 laps.

Star Gymnasts To Compete Here

At the Y.M.C.A. gym Saturday night at 7.30, Victoria and Vancouver gymnasts will commence competitions for the British Columbia championships under sanction of the B.C. branch of the A.A.U. of Canada.

Contests will be on five different pieces of apparatus, the high horizontal bar, the parallel bars, mats, side horse and flying rings. The top-notch Provincial Recreation and Y.M.C.A. gymnasts will be seen in action.

Four-man teams and individual contestants will make up the program with an exhibition of skill by the visitors and senior leaders of the local "Y" following.

The senior leaders of the "Y" will have their strongest team in the championships, composed of Doug Marsland, Don Kerr, Ken Marsland and Larry Moore. Local individual entries include Ted Ray of the Victoria High School; Jack Moffatt of the Victoria Provincial Recreation class, and George Fry of the "Y."

Judges will be Jerry Mathison, senior gymnastic instructor of the Pro-Rex at Vancouver, and William Roper of Victoria High. Warren W. Martin, president of the B.C. branch of the A.A.U. of C. will present the trophies. Sam Hill will record and Archie McKinnon will direct the meet.

Brooklyn Is Level With Cincinnati

There was a time that the National League baseball pennant chase looked like it might be a runaway. First Brooklyn Dodgers won nine straight, then Cincinnati Reds gave the appearance of gunning for a 10-game lead by July 4.

The result was inevitable, of course. The senior circuit is having its customary brawl for the lead and today the Dodgers and Reds are tied with 18 games won and eight lost.

The American League is having nearly as desperate a dispute for first place between Boston Red Sox and Cleveland Indians. New York Yankees have assumed winning ways, and have finally escaped the cellar.

The baseball situation, in short, still appears as uncertain as the weather.

Cincinnati's chances depend considerably on big Paul Derringer, who suddenly has changed from an exclamation point to a question mark in the Reds' story. He has been knocked out of the box three times in his last five games and the only reason he lasted the route yesterday as New York Giants and Carl Hubbell beat Cincinnati 6 to 4 was the great faith of manager Bill McKechnie.

In the meantime, Fred Fitzsimmons led the Dodgers to a 3 to 1 decision over Pittsburgh Pirates. He permitted only six hits.

These were the only games the weather allowed in the National League.

Cleveland took first blood on its crucial series with the Red Sox winning 9 to 6 on home runs by Hal Trosky, Roy Weatherly and Ken Keltner. The triumph raised the Indians again within one and a half games of the Sox.

The Yankees continued their assault with a 16-hit bombardment that wrecked Detroit Tigers 8 to 2. Chicago White Sox scored a 10 to 1 triumph over Philadelphia Athletics. Washington Senators won a 9 to 2 victory over St. Louis.

COAST LEAGUE

Seattle Rainiers moved into second place in the Coast League race last night by defeating Oakland A's 5 to 3 but they did not gain on the first place San Diego Padres, who defeated San Francisco Seals 8 to 6.

The Rainiers got good pitching for the second straight night as Hal Turpin held the A's to eight scattered hits. The Rainiers combined daring base running with three timely hits and an infield error to score the two deciding runs in the eighth inning.

The Padres scored an easy victory as Al Olsen, young San Diego southpaw, held the Seals to one hit for eight innings. He was pounded hard in the ninth when the Seals scored five runs.

A three-run rally in the sixth inning gave Hollywood Stars their second straight win over Portland Beavers 6 to 3.

"Jittery Joe" Berry, Los Angeles relief pitcher, won his own game against the Sacramento Solons 5 to 4 in the eighth inning when he hit a long sacrifice fly to score "Rip" Collins.

DAY OF PRAYER

To the Editor:—In Friday's issue of your paper many people were heartened by the notice that "King George asked Britain today to make May 26 a day of National Prayer on behalf of the nation and Empire, their allies, and of the cause in which they are united."

I have not seen this emphasized or specially called attention to. I hope it will yet be. Our Dominion and provincial premiers ought quite prominently to call attention to it. Indeed, the Acting Governor-General, and the Lieut. Governors of the provinces, as the King's representatives, should broadcast in some way their hearty endorsement.

We have been chastened these past few weeks, and we needed to be; but the chastening has brought us into a more becoming spirit and reminded us that "our help cometh from the Lord who made heaven and earth," and that we need humbly to be soliciting that help.

A FLAG AS A TAG

To the Editor:—Being at that unfortunate age when my services are no longer in urgent demand, may I offer the above slogan as my little contribution?

The suggestion, I believe, came over the radio from Dr. Weir and Capt. Sid. O'Leary that every patriotic householder should display a flag. While I do not wish to steal their ammunition, I believe that idea can be enlarged. I would suggest that the Red Cross can materially increase their funds by selling those flags on the street, and further a tag day could be arranged when miniature flags or buttons could be sold for a nominal price of say 10 cents, to be worn all the time.

Returned soldiers have their buttons or organization badges, and while, thank God, the overwhelming majority of our people require no emblem to indicate their patriotism, yet the mere fact of wearing that emblem, from a psychological point of view, would give a feeling of personal responsibility and comradeship, and be of tremendous moral value in overcoming the subversive opinion of some of our street corner critics and put them on a spot.

Victoria Day with all that that means would be a good time to launch the scheme, but as this is too late, might I suggest that if this meets the approval of those arranging the meeting for Sunday afternoon that a resolution along these lines be submitted.

FOR NATIONAL SERVICE

To the Editor:—One thing only, national training, can avert conscription in Canada. Whether Mr. Herridge is campaigning for National Service or for Conscription seems doubtful, but the public should understand that these are not identical—the former precluding the latter.

Britain was strongly opposed to conscription until 1916, when, after partly paying the price of unreadiness, in lives, she recognized the urgency of some form of compulsory universal preparation.

So deeply had the bitter lessons of 1914-19 seared our national heart and intelligence, that the present law was easily effected—a law unnecessary if Lord Roberts' sane scheme of universal compulsory national training for voluntary war service had been adopted as permanent safeguard of peace—for "The strong man armed, keepeth his goods in peace."

"Bobby" urged that valor alone is almost useless against trained modern troops disciplined in mass activities and an unscrupulous foe's hatred.

DAY OF PRAYER

To the Editor:—What is truth? Perhaps, and indeed, the world of today is no less in the dark than was he who 1940 years ago propounded the question; but we, you and I, should not have to use Pilate's alibi, even though we have not been told, we can read, and the answer that Christ gave: "Thus sayest thou I am King. To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness to the truth." This, then, is what the world should know: First, that Christ was born a King; He lived a Kingly life; He died a King, as per Luke 23: 42-43. He arose King; He ascended a King, and the Angel said: "He will come again, as ye see Him go." And He, Himself, said: "I will come again, and receive you unto Myself, that where I am, there ye may be also." And He, Christ Himself, is going to say to His Redeemed of earth: "Come, thou blessed of My Father, inherit the Kingdom prepared for ye from the foundation of the world." And He is going to have to say to the unredeemed: "Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire prepared for the Devil and his angels." Mat. 25.

SAVE OUR CAPTAINS

To the Editor:—In these war days when captains of boats are of vital importance to the Empire it seems to me that "those who go down to the sea in ships" should change some of their ideas and traditions to meet present day conditions.

It is heroic for men in command of ships to be willing to make the supreme sacrifice and go down with their boats in cases of total disaster, but how much better it would be for them to save their own lives as well as their passengers, sailors or crews. Their knowledge and experience is absolutely necessary to the Empire.

Boats are being replaced, thank God, but men of the type who captain our boats, whether merchant or war ships, are the product of many years' training and experience, and are of inestimable value to us now. I would plead that "we, the public," should make it definitely clear we want these men to survive.

It is our business to help abolish any remaining thought that it would be a disgrace for such men to live and be ready to serve in the Empire's service again.

MONEY CONTROL

To the Editor:—In order to secure adequate food, clothing, housing and a few luxuries and special services for all the people so that they may be able to devote their best energies towards helping Great Britain and the Allies in Europe and elsewhere, we must work together.

It seems evident that the government must have perfect control of the amount of money, of the prices of all goods and of the amount of money in circulation at all times. The amount of money in circulation must be based upon the resources at our disposal, upon the number of people to be fed and housed. The Dominion Bureau of Statistics is able to find out what the requirements are for each industry in the way of raw materials, power and equipment and number of men required to produce needs for the people to maintain health and to expand the country and to aid the Allies in this great struggle.

The incentives for personal profit and for the acquiring of monetary power by the instrumentality of interest or usury has ruined our civilization until we can see that it is possible for a man like Hitler, and his advisers to so hoodwink the world with the power of money turned into destructive equipment that the higher ideals of civilization are now at stake.

"INTERNATIONAL COLUMN"

To the Editor:—Listening to President Roosevelt's suggested defence figures—colossal enough to give Prof. Jeans the jitters—one realizes the astounding amount of money or credit required by a blitzkrieg belligerent to establish and maintain a fifth column and amass sufficient armaments before it lets loose its death-dealing "donner and blitzen." Obviously, this is only possible with the co-operation of an outside finance or "international column," which is primarily responsible for every casualty in this ghastly holocaust. The commanding officers of this column should be rounded up and hounded out of decent society forthwith. The fifth column would soon conk-up if the ration wagon were waylaid.

Incidentally, while checking up the Communists, I hope the authorities will not overlook the (until recently) vociferous Fascists in our midst.

GEOFFREY LE GALLAIS.

PROHIBITION?

To the Editor:—A recent news item suggests that the government restrict the sale of liquor as a wartime measure. I respectfully submit that they are already restricting it as an "all-time" measure by placing upon it a price prohibitive to the man of moderate means. This undemocratic class-legislation allows only the rich to enjoy the fascinations of a cirrhotic liver.

If we are to have prohibition then treat everyone alike. Apart from the crime and corruption which follow in its train we should probably all be the better for it.

SUNDAY MOVIES

To the Editor:—I read with much pleasure the letter of Mr. Abraham about the proposal for Sunday movies in Victoria as they have them in England.

Is there not enough desecration of God's day with its ball games, picnics, etc., without picture shows?

Half the homes are godless today, or nearly so. The young people need to be helped to live better lives, not to be given more license.

Has not the godlessness of many countries today brought about the awful conditions that are and give us great fear for the future of our beloved Canada.

HOLD FAST TO FACTS

To the Editor:—Germany commenced the war of 1914, by invading Belgium. Germany began the war of 1939, by destroying Poland. These are facts.

Often repeated, as facts, are lies from German propaganda. In truth, the treaty of Versailles did err by being the most generous peace ever granted to a vanquished nation, and Germany was vanquished—Ludendorff said so.

The Allies were wrong in assuming that, without their former rulers, Germans could be trusted to abandon war and live peacefully under laws by which the Allies rule themselves. Though all the world was open to them, Germans preferred to remain at home. Until recently, German quotas for entry into even the United States remained unfilled. Germans remained at home and, now, by gangster violence, attempt to take from others all that which they covet and which they would not create for themselves.

The terms upon which the Allies accept peace are always the same: the might of armed mobs must not destroy the rights of individuals. The Allies obey that law.

Some say that there will be another war in 1965 if Germany does not get "better treatment" than in 1918, "after this war."

Doubtless, "war is the national trade" of Prussia; Iroquois and Apaches, also, were warriors. Doubtless past errors were made in bringing civilization to our Indians; but it was done and, having assimilated our peaceful way of living, they go on the warpath no more.

We all know many good Germans—both in and out of Germany. The Allies, at all events, have not lost hope that these, and most Germans, will come to prefer that free work and open competition which give to our democracies our prosperity. Of course, there always will be in Germany, as in New York, a minority of racketeers whose moronic preference for profit by violence remains incurable. Perhaps, like bad Indians, these will never be good until they are dead?

Writers, Artists, To Vacation Here

Writers and artists, together with moving picture celebrities from the Hollywood colony, intend to vacation here this summer, states Albert Rhys Williams, well-known American author, who now makes his home at Cedar, Vancouver Island.

Mr. Williams, who is now working on a book dealing with experiences in Barcelona during the Spanish civil war, was at the Empress Hotel today to meet Douglas Dumbrille, Hollywood movie actor and his wife, and accompany them to his island retreat.

"Many of my friends in southern California have written me signifying their intention of coming to Vancouver Island this summer," said Mr. Williams.

His prediction was borne out by Mr. Dumbrille, who has just finished work on "South of Pago Pago," a South Sea pearl-diving motion picture, featuring Victor McLaglen. He was in the cast of "Virginia City," shown in Victoria this week.

Mr. Williams is the author of "The Soviets," one of the most important and informative books published about Russia and the Soviet way of life.

He spent a number of years in Russia since the revolution and has made a close study of its people and their leaders. Serving as special correspondent in the last war for The Outlook, Mr. Williams was arrested as a British spy by the Germans in Belgium and then wrote "In the Claws of the German Eagle."

A pioneer Victoria, Mrs. Jane Smith, will celebrate her 92nd birthday tomorrow. A resident at the Aged Women's Home, Mrs. Smith was born in London, England, on May 24, 1848. For many years she lived in Kansas, where she and her husband farmed. Mrs. Smith has lived in Victoria since 1900, in the James Bay district, where she was a familiar figure for many years.

Honor Queen Victoria

At an impressive service under bright sunshine in the grounds of the Parliament Buildings 1,000 school children of Victoria, Esquimalt and Oak Bay and representatives of the I.O.D.E. this morning paid tribute to Queen Victoria.

Standard bearers of the I.O.D.E. headed by Mrs. F. X. Russell, of the Municipal Chapter, are shown in the above picture as they walked toward the Queen Victoria memorial at the Parliament Square this morning.

The brief birthday service was arranged jointly by school officials and the I.O.D.E. and opened with the singing of O Canada and "Land of Our Birth" by several hundred of the junior and intermediate grade students standing on the steps of the Legislative Buildings. Mayor Andrew McGavin, members of the City Council and school board were present.

Prayers honoring the memory of Queen Victoria and also asking

Divine guidance for allied leaders during the present period of strife and worry were offered by Rev. H. A. McLeod. He also prayed for the protection of soldiers, sailors and airmen in their fight, for the allied cause of righteousness.

After the singing of "O God, Our Help in Ages Past," there followed the ceremony of laying flowers on the Queen Victoria memorial.

At the four corners of the memorial were representatives of the Sea Cadets, Girl Guides, Boy Scouts and I.O.D.E. while 13 standard bearers from the various chapters flanked the memorial with an escort of Sea Cadets, Boy Scouts and Girl Guides.

Forty children, representing each of the schools attending the service, marched around the memorial and placed flowers on it. After the first wreath had been placed by Mrs. R. B. McMick-ing, a pioneer I.O.D.E. member and honorary regent of the Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter.

Standard bearers of the chapters taking part were: Mrs. F. X. Russell, Municipal; Mrs. A. Mainprize, Camosun; Mrs. T. R. Myers, Gonzales; Mrs. A. M. Piller, Sir James and Lady Douglas; Mrs. Ernest Eve, Florence Nightingale; Miss Sheelagh Russell, Navy League; Mrs. J. Quinn, Mary Croft, Esquimalt; Miss Doris Tacman, R. B. McMicking; Mrs. J. C. MacDonald, Bishop Cridge Ministering; Mrs. G. E. Dr. O. M. Jones; Mrs. R. Moir, Sir Matthew Baillie Begbie; Mrs. Arthur Morris, Major J. Hebben Gillespie, and Miss Julia Kent-Jones, Royal Bids (Jr.).

W. H. Muncy conducted the singing and George H. E. Green was the cornet accompanist. W. H. Wilson acted as marshal and Miss A. M. Paterson was in charge of the flower girls.

Even now the Royal 22nd Regiment, crack French-Canadian unit of Canada's First Division, is sometimes humorously called "The Trained Seals." In the First Great War, the 22nd won such fame that the current edition of the unit has gone on special show perhaps often than any other outfit of Canadians now overseas. Hence the nickname.

WORLD LEADERS ROTARY SUBJECT

"Bridge Builders on World Highways" was the topic of a lecture given by R. M. "Bob" Miller, former president of the Vancouver Rotary Club at the Victoria Rotary Club luncheon meeting today.

The speaker touched on the lives of the great leaders of the world who gave their lives in service. The famous men mentioned by Mr. Miller included Dr. T. Kigawa, the great Japanese social worker, the Soong family of China, David Livingstone, Cecil Rhodes, Dr. R. Tagore, Dr. E. Stanley Jones and Dr. C. F. Anderson. W. H. P. Anderson, a famous Canadian social worker, who went to work among the lepers in India 30 years ago, was included in the speaker's list of famous figures in history.

Mr. Miller took his audience across North America, China, Japan, India and Africa, and emphasized the importance of the debt we owe to the coming of the Pilgrim Fathers, 320 years ago this July.

A challenge was thrown out to Rotarians to build well, as their heritage may be great, in the future of the world.

The speaker was introduced by P. B. Scurrah and was thanked on behalf of the Rotarians by Dr. W. J. Sippell.

Walter Loney, president of the club, was in the chair.

Attractive Folder Publicizes Island

One and a half tons of printed paper is being distributed throughout the Pacific coast and in other parts of the United States by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, giving detailed information of the summer resorts of Vancouver Island.

The one and a half tons make up 35,000 copies of an attractive folder with cuts and printed matter. The majority of resorts of the island are included; the distance from Victoria of each is given, with maps showing their locations. Fishing information is given also.

Looked Bad Before, Says Vet

Those who believe veterans can have a steady influence on young soldiers and also on those civilians who are inclined to panic when the news looks black may find support for their arguments in Sergeant A. G. Head, veteran of the Great War and Mons Star man.

From his experience in the last war he recalled St. Quentin, now in the hands of the German. "And that's why this business doesn't alarm me," he said. "People get the wind up, but it was bad before, and it will be bad again, but the tide will turn, and then we will have our innings against the Hun."

DETERMINED TO JOIN

The determination of Edward Ward, 22, half-breed of Fairview in the Peace River country, to reach Calgary to join the army, urged him on after he lost part of his left heel under a freight train at Red Deer. He did reach Calgary and walk two miles before he finally collapsed.

He lay near the railway tracks in East Calgary all afternoon, under a blazing sun, until help came in the uniform of a Calgary policeman.

The story was told as Ward lay in a cell at Calgary police headquarters, undergoing medical attention. The heel is badly cut, but the doctor said he believed the tissue would heal and Ward might yet be able to join the army.

Ward left Fairview several days before and rode the rods into Edmonton. He could not get into the army there, so set out for Calgary. Just out of Red Deer, he jumped off as the train was crossing a bridge. One heel was caught under a wheel.

The youth sat on the ties and dressed his wound. Then he boarded another freight, and left it as it came into Calgary, walking two miles, until he could go no farther.

In the evening, nearby residents who had seen him lying there, decided something was wrong and called police. A charge of vagrancy faces him.

REGIMENTAL NICKNAMES

Many new regimental nicknames are certain to emerge from this war, just as they have from other wars down through British history.

Even now the Royal 22nd Regiment, crack French-Canadian unit of Canada's First Division, is sometimes humorously called "The Trained Seals." In the First Great War, the 22nd won such fame that the current edition of the unit has gone on special show perhaps often than any other outfit of Canadians now overseas. Hence the nickname.

The smartness of their drilling would seem to make it certain that once the Canucks have moved into the firing line the French Canadians will carry the same nom de guerre as those of the last war—"The Fighting 22nd."

Several of the unofficial titles carried by famous regiments have amusing stories behind them. The Royal Scots, for instance, are known as "Pontius Pilate's Bodyguard," a designation they received following an argument with the French Regiment de Picardie regarding the age of the respective outfits.

The Frenchmen claimed their regiment was on guard at the Crucifixion. The Scots replied: "If we had been we shouldn't have slept at our posts, but that night we were acting as Pontius Pilate's Bodyguards."

The Highland Light Infantry calmly accepts the name of "The Pig and Whistles." It is derived from their badge—an elephant and a hunting horn. A badge resembling the German Iron Cross is responsible for the King's Royal Rifles Corps being known as "The Kaiser's Own." The Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders are proud to be known as "The Thin Red Line." They gained it when they withstood, without support, the charges of the Russian cavalry and defeated them at Balaklava.

Some pet names need no explanation. The Army Medical Corps—Canadian as well as Royal—is known as "The Linseed Lancers" or "The Pills." The Army Service Corps cheerfully endures "The Thieving Corps," or "The Moke Train."

TOWN TOPICS

Harry Maynard has donated the services of a 14-piece orchestra for the Solarium sports at the Willows tomorrow afternoon.

Trucks driven by James G. Burnett, 3097 Harriet Road, and Clarence E. Raaflaub, 2639 Douglas Street, collided on Discovery Street this morning.

Victoria Clearing House officials announced today that bank clearings in the city for the past week were $1,888,758 in comparison with $1,408,415 for the corresponding period of last year.

Saanich school children will be granted a half holiday on September 25 to attend the annual fair of the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society, the Saanich School Board decided last night. The fair will be held September 24 and 25.

One motorist was fined $25 in the City Police Court today for dangerous driving, another $5 for failing to stop at a stop sign, one $10 for exceeding the speed limit and two $2.50 for overparking. A man who failed to have a trades license was fined $4 and $1 costs.

All A.R.P. Wardens of the Civilian Protection Committee, who will take part in the A.R.P. demonstration, are requested to assemble behind the grandstand at the Willows on Friday afternoon at 12.45, wearing arm bands and badges.

At the intersection of Linden Avenue and Fairfield Road last evening at 6.20, two cars were damaged when they collided. They were driven by James D. Bissett, 1808 Crescent Road, going west on Fairfield, and Noel Gleave, R.C.N. Barracks, going north on Linden.

Seventeen motorists caught exceeding the 20-mile-an-hour speed limit in the restricted zone on the Island Highway between Craigflower Bridge and Six Mile paid $212.50 in fines in Provincial Police Court yesterday afternoon. Each was fined $10 and $2.50 costs. All the arrests were made last Saturday and Sunday.

For the protection of children at Victoria West School the city's parks committee yesterday recommended to the public works committee the erection of slow signs at Esquimalt Road and Alston Street. An offer from Mrs. L. J. Clark, 1037 Richardson Street, to provide a bench for aged persons at Cook and Richardson Streets was accepted with thanks.

A suggestion from W. E. G. Clisford that a putting green be made at Beacon Hill Park received a promise of further investigation by the city parks committee yesterday. Previous action of the committee in refusing the Victoria Baseball Association permission to play at Victoria West Park but offering another diamond at Beacon Hill Park was confirmed.

No News of Family, Attempts Suicide

Grieved because he had not heard from several years from his wife and family, who were living in the part of China the Japanese captured early in the war, a Victoria Chinaman attempted to take his own life, according to testimony given this morning before Magistrate Henry C. Hall in City Police Court. The Chinaman was charged with unlawfully trying to commit suicide. Hospital treatment followed the attempt.

Character witnesses, white people whom the Chinese had worked for, testified that, besides worry over the safety of his family in China, accused also suffered from ill-health and at present was also faced with financial difficulties.

Defence counsel requested suspended sentence. Accused was ordered to post a $250 bond to ensure his good behavior for six months.

BORN

SMITH—A Royal Jubilee Hospital, on May 18, 1940, to Mr. and Mrs. J. Smith, a daughter.

DIED

SANDERS—At Royal Jubilee Hospital on Tuesday, May 21, 1940, there passed away peacefully, after a long illness, Mrs. J. Sanders, nee Smith, aged 78 years, born in Long Sutton, Lincolnshire, England, and a resident of this district for 18 years.

Mr. Sanders was a member of the Victoria branch of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, and was a past master of the local lodge.

He was survived by his wife, Mrs. J. Sanders, nee Smith, and a daughter, Mrs. J. Sanders, nee Smith, who is also a resident of this district.

The remains are resting at the chapel of the Sands Mortuary Ltd., from where the funeral arrangements will be held and interment made.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear daughter, Gladys P. Ferguson, who passed away May 23, 1933, Phyllis D. Taylor, who passed away June 26, 1937.

Remembrance is a golden chain. Death tries to break but in vain. To have to love and then to part is the greatest sorrow of our hearts.

Many a day their name is spoken. And many an hour they are in our thoughts.

A link in our family chain is broken. They are gone from our home but not from our hearts.

Sadly missed by their mother and father and Gladys' two young sons, David and William Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Taylor, 362 Dupont Street.

Nazi War Machines Use 35,000 Tons Gas Daily

NEW YORK — Germany has been eating into her petroleum fuel reserves at a probable rate of some 20,000 to 25,000 tons a day since invading the Low Countries on May 10, an analysis prepared for Science Service shows.

There is no prospect, however, that dry gas tanks will write limits to her war machines any time in the near future. The Reich has not even begun to use up the stocks laid by since September 1 alone, or the fuel seized in conquered countries.

Even at the present consumption rate—estimated at between 35,000 and 45,000 tons daily—known German stocks and current production will last a minimum of six and possibly nine months. But the present rate is not maintained. It is more likely, therefore, that Germany can meet her requirements for a year and a half to two years at least.

This analysis was prepared with the advice of Orchard Lisle, consulting petroleum engineer, who has studied German oil production facilities closely.

CONSUMPTION

The Nazi air force is generally believed to have been using 3,000 warplanes or more on active front-line service since the start of the latest series of invasions.

Assuming eight hours of flight a day, these planes, half of which are single-engine pursuits and dive bombers and the other half twin-engine bombers and fighters, burn 8,000 tons of fuel daily.

Many German bombers have diesel engines.

Thirty divisions, of which about 10 are completely mechanized, are carrying the brunt of the current drive. About 400 tanks and 3,000 armored cars are in each mechanized division and would burn an estimated 800 to 1,300 tons of fuel daily.

Another 8,000 tons or more is therefore a likely figure for these. The 20 infantry divisions, plus the other 150 German divisions believed mobilized, plus irreducible industrial needs, would require another 14,000 to 16,000 tons every 24 hours.

In 1938, Germany secured 1,500,000 tons of petroleum fuel from her synthetic gasoline and oil factories. Another 5,500,000 tons were imported natural products, from Rumania, the United States and elsewhere. Only a few hundred thousand tons were obtained from the Reich's own oil wells.

SUPPLY

Not all of this 7,000,000 tons a year was used; however, enough being laid by to build up a 3,000,000-ton reserve as of September, 1, 1939, according to Paris estimates.

The Reich is still getting her 7,000,000 tons a year despite the British blockade, which has cut off all important foreign sources except Rumania and the U.S.S.R.

Rumanian oil exports to Germany are now running at a rate of about 1,500,000 tons a year; another 500,000 tons come from the Soviet field at Baku. Intensively exploited wells in Germany and Austria and in conquered Poland yield the third 1,000,000 tons.

Russia got the main Polish oil fields, but European petrologists are certain there are deep-lying oil-bearing strata in German Galicia and that drilling in this area has been begun. The remaining 4,000,000 tons come from the greatly expanded synthetic gasoline industry.

SOME SYNTHETIC

Not quite 2,000,000 tons a year of synthetic gasoline is being produced by the Bergius process for hydrogenation of coal. Distillation of brown coal yields 680,000 tons per annum, and 400,000 tons of benzol comes from the Reich's gas works. These fuels are all suitable for airplanes.

Though 95 octane gasoline can be produced with the aid of synthetic antiknock compounds, gas of 80 to 85 octane is actually the main product of the Bergius factories as production of the higher-rated fuel would mean a sacrifice of quantity to quality.

The principal German aircraft engines are designed for 80 to 85 octane gas.

Another 750,000 tons of fuel of diesel type is produced by the Fischer-Tropsch process. German lubricating oil requirements are filled by natural German crudes.

DAILY DEFICIT

The total of production plus imports is just over 18,000 tons a day. Thus the current deficit and the consumption of reserves at the 20,000-25,000-ton daily rate.

Until May 10, however, Germany was producing and importing more oil than she was using, despite the war.

The average consumption of the Luftwaffe through that period, for example, was only 2,000 tons a day, counting both war and training activities. It is probable that Germany was able to store away an average of 2,000 to 3,000 tons of

'ALL WOMEN HAVE SECRETS'

A half-dozen of the most promising names on Paramount's preferred list of younger acting talent were assembled to play the top roles in the studio's new comedy drama of newlywed life, "All Women Have Secrets." Boasting one of the big youth casts of the season, the picture, which opens today at the Plaza Theatre, takes up romance, rivalry and marriage on the campus of a typical college.

The two spirited leading ladies of the story are blond Virginia Dale and brunette Jean Cagney. They play two co-eds, brought up in the height of luxury, who learn what hard times mean when they marry two college youths and try to live on the proceeds of student jobs.

The present 45,000-ton-a-day consumption rate amounts to nearly 17,000,000 tons a year. Though future land battles are likely to be more intense than the "Battle of the Bulge," lulls will probably reduce this to 15,000,000 tons a year, or somewhat more than double her production and imports.

Even at this rate, which agrees with most published pre-war German estimates of the Reich's fuel needs, Nazi supplies will last a long time.

Start Action Against Bank

A Supreme Court action in which Sou Yin Mar is suing the Royal Bank of Canada for $8,000, continues before Mr. Justice Robertson this morning.

Frank Higgins, K.C., appears for the plaintiff, and Alfred Bull, K.C., and D. M. Gordon for the bank.

The action is the result of failure of the bank to turn over the money to the plaintiff after it was allegedly deposited in a personal account in her name.

The bank is holding the sum against a debit of Mar Leung, a former teller, now serving a term for theft of funds from the bank.

Sou Yin Mar is his wife.

The attractive middle-aged Chinese woman was on the stand during yesterday explaining the accruing of the money on her account and the operation of various accounts which she had in the main branch and Douglas Street branch of the Royal Bank.

In both branches she had personal accounts while also in the Douglas Street branch she had a joint account with her husband, although she did not realize at the time that the money was being put into a joint account.

She told of various withdrawals and deposits and of her various investments and sales of jewelry, clothing and gold which eventually amassed her total savings to $8,000.

The trial is continuing.

Laurel and Hardy in Latest Comedy

In the latest Hal Roach Laurel and Hardy comedy, "Saps at Sea," which opens at the Dominion Theatre tomorrow, there is a scene in which Stan Laurel, playing the trombone in a small post-cabin, sticks the slide out of a porthole. It gets stuck, and when he finally pulls it in, he finds a seagull hanging to it.

It seemed like a perfectly simple gag to operate, but when director Gordon Douglas tried to find a seagull, he was informed by the fish and game conservation wardens that the birds were wards of the state, and a permit was necessary to capture one of them.

McLaglen in 'CAPTAIN FURY'

"In Captain Fury," the Hal Roach production dramatizing the colonization of Australia, and now showing at the Cadet Theatre, Victor McLaglen played his fourth picture without a day's vacation between. The popular star, who shares top billing with Brian Aherne in this picture, has been continuously employed in "Pacific Linger," "Gunga Din," "Songs of the West" and "Captain Fury," which is a United Artists release, with June Lang in the feminine lead.

ATLAS THEATRE

For a second time, Deanna Durbin appears on the screen as the daughter of a famous actress.

In Universal's "It's a Date," now at the Atlas Theatre, Kay Francis is seen as Deanna's mother, a Broadway star. In "Mad About Music," Gall Patrick portrayed Deanna's mother, a screen luminary.

Old Radio Landmark Will Soon Disappear

Within the next month the Gonzales Hill radio station, the oldest landmark in British Columbia's radio history, will disappear.

This famous landmark has been in existence since 1907, being the first wireless plant to be established on the B.C. coast.

Announcement was made today by William J. Bowerman, division superintendent, Department of Transport radio branch, that the Dominion government's new wireless plant at Gordon Head, which has been built to replace the Gonzales station, will be ready for operation by the end of June.

The Gordon Head plant is now practically complete, with the high antenna in position.

The equipment of the new station will be of the very latest Marconi type, with special additions to make it one of the most modern wireless plants on the Pacific coast.

MEISS IN CHARGE

S. E. Meiss, who has been chief operator at the Gonzales Hill station for the past two years, and in the government service for a quarter of a century, will be in charge of the new Gordon Head station, Mr. Bowerman stated.

Mr. Meiss is among the best known radio operators on the coast. Before coming to Victoria he was stationed at Estevan Point, west coast of Vancouver Island.

There will be five operators working on continuous shifts at the new station.

The Marconi equipment which has been installed at the Gordon Head plant illustrates the tremendous development which has taken place in ship-to-shore radio since the Gonzales station was established 33 years ago, when coastwise vessels carried no wireless and few ocean liners were equipped with radio.

The late E. J. Haughton, who passed away recently, was the first operator in charge of the Gonzales Hill station when it opened in 1907. He rose from that post to the office of district superintendent, which office he held up to within about a year of his death.

The original plant at Gonzales was of the crudest type, consisting of a receiver and magnetic detector, with power supplied by a gas engine.

The Gonzales plant was improved from time to time to keep abreast of developments, but even this has now been outdated and will be dismantled, to be superseded by the up-to-the-minute Marconi equipment at Gordon Head.

PLASTIC PLANES FOR ARMY USE?

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP)—From a United States army aviation expert comes a prediction that huge airplane "bakeries"—kneading plastics rather than dough—may open the door to mass production of fighting craft.

Col. Joseph L. Stromme of the army air corps planning division witnessed the testing of an all-plastic airplane here yesterday.

"Now we see demonstrated the extreme possibility that airplanes soon may be turned out of molds, swiftly and at comparatively low cost. This may mark the start of an era of mass production of aircraft, military and commercial," he said.

Colonel Stromme said the sleek, bright blue and gold plastic plane, which Test Pilot Vance Breese put through its paces was not the first plastic plane.

"Breese himself produced a plastic ship which is now in use in Texas and, I understand, soon to be become available in manufacturing quantities," he added. "And there are others."

Local Plants To Be Speeded Up

Victoria's shipbuilding plants, Yarrow Limited and the Victoria Machinery Depot Limited, each of which has orders for three naval craft, have received Hon. C. D. Howe's request for speeding up of production, and are co-operating to the fullest extent, officials of the local companies stated this morning.

Excursion Sold Out

When Ss. Princess Elizabeth gets away from the C.P.R. docks at 10 tomorrow morning for Seattle, she will be a full ship. The "sold out" sign for the Victoria day excursion was displayed at the company's offices today.

The exodus of Victorians will be counteracted by the arrival of about 1,000 excursionists here tomorrow aboard Ss. Princess Marguerite from Vancouver.

Air Pilot Missing

COURTENAY (CP)—George Tater, Courtenay hotel operator, has received a wire from the British Air Ministry advising him his son, Pilot Officer Sernan George Tater, has been missing since May 20.

Pilot Officer Tater joined the Royal Air Force a year ago.

Feared Lost

SICAMOUS, B.C. (CP)—Fear was expressed today for the safety of Captain J. J. Smith, veteran boat operator on Shuswap Lake and Thompson River, whose empty launch was found beached with the engine switch still on near the narrows of the lake.

The gasoline tank of the craft was empty and it was feared Smith had fallen overboard while on his regular trip with mail for Seymour Arm. He had operated boats on the lake and river for 30 years.

Canada Tests Fast Bomber

MONTREAL (CP)—The Grigor PDB-1 dive bomber, newest Canadian-built fighting plane, was flown into Montreal yesterday on its way to Mexico and South America for demonstration purposes.

The 4,200-pound single seater, built at the Fort William plant of the Canadian Car and Foundry, was given its first test at the lakehead Tuesday and according to Pilot Howard F. Klein lived up to all expectations.

In its test, Klein said, the plane attained a diving speed of 372 miles an hour and a climbing rate of 3,500 feet a minute. Its normal cruising rate is 258 m.p.h. at 8,000 feet. It has a range of 600 miles.

Full complement of the bomber consists of 618 pounds of bombs, two synchronized 50-calibre machine guns in the front section and four 30-calibre machine guns fitted in the wings. The plane was designed and constructed by Canadians with the exception of its 750 horsepower engine, imported from the United States.

7 DUTCH LINERS DAMAGED OR SUNK

NEW YORK (AP)—Seven large passenger liners owned by Holland-America Line probably have been sunk, severely damaged or confiscated by invading German troops now in possession of Rotterdam and Antwerp.

Officials of the line in New York said all efforts to communicate with the home office had failed. The ships involved represent 89,725 gross tons.

The line was without confirmation of a report that the 28,291-ton Statendam had burned at Rotterdam.

WINNIPEG (CP)—Early gains of almost a cent were erased during the last half of today's session on Winnipeg Grain Exchange when scattered liquidation came out and buyers took their orders out of the pit. Closing quotations were 1/2 cent lower, May at 71, July 71 1/2 to 72 and October 74 1/2 cents.

An easier tone at Chicago and bearish interpretation of reports from the European war zones caused the setback. Foreign interests were credited with taking almost 500,000 bushels of wheat, but it could not be determined whether this support represented actual overseas sales of Canadian wheat.

Light buying from exporters, mills and commission houses kept oats, barley and rye fairly steady except for sharp losses in flux due to stop-loss selling.

Cash wheat trade was dull. Yesterday's country marketings totaled 127,000 bushels against 222,000 on the same day a year ago.

Wheat shipments from the Argentine reached 3,758,000 bushels this week compared with 6,300,000 cleared last week and 4,614,000 bushels shipped during the corresponding period last year.

Prices Wilt at Close

NEW YORK (AP)—New war clouds again helped darken the stock market today and, in a brief last-hour selling deluge, prices of leaders wilted one to four or more points.

Gains ran to three or so for favored steels, motors and aircrafts at the start in fairly active buying. Trends then began to waver in light dealings. Shortly after the final period began offerings hit the list hard enough to put the ticker tape behind for a short while and wipe out virtually all of the morning's improvement.

The pace slowed as the session drew to a close and quotations in most instances edged up from the lows. Transfers were around 1,500,000 shares.

Under pressure in the tail-end of the proceedings were U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Glenn Martin, Lockheed, J.I. Case, U.S. Rubber, Westinghouse, Union Carbide, Allied Chemical, Lof and Eastman Kodak.

A show of resistance was displayed by American Telephone, International Telephone, Du Pont and Pennsylvania.

Dow Jones averages closed today as follows:

30 Industrials—114.71, off .84

20 rails—22.58, up .37

15 utilities—18.41, off .10

Total sales—1,640,000.

SHARP SELL-OFF

TORONTO (CP)—Substantial gains were erased today on the stock market in a sharp sell-off. Many stocks weakened to new lows for recent years.

Dome's gain of a point was wiped out. Tech-Hughes fell back 15 to 53 and Wright-Hargreaves slumped to 5.45 for a net loss of 25. Net declines of 1 to 15 showed for Little Long Lac, Kerr-Addison, Anson, Central Pacific and God's Lake. East Malartic fell about 20 to 2.30.

Gen. Clark Urges Conscription

VANCOUVER (CP)—Adoption of national service was urged today by Brig.-General J. A. Clark of Vancouver in an Empire Day address to service clubs here.

Every effort should be directed to the one objective—victory, declared General Clark.

"To achieve our objective... I would register every able-bodied man and woman and allot to each a task, the purpose of which is to assist in achieving victory."

He proposed assigning to every industrial plant its war task and likewise allot to every workman the task for which he is best suited. "I would place the last dollar as well as the last man at the service of the state," he declared.

The "Fifth Column," he suggested, should be put to road work throughout the province and the Dominion and returned soldiers should be used to guard them.

Still a Mechanic

CRANBROOK, B.C. (CP)—Herbert Hollick Kenyon, assistant to the general superintendent of Trans-Canada Airlines, hasn't forgotten how to fix an airplane despite his official position.

He rolled up his sleeves early today when the westbound T.C.A. plane in which he was a passenger landed here because of minor engine trouble and helped the pilot check an oil leak.

PAPERS WEAKEN

MONTREAL (CP)—Papers softened in late dealings on the stock market today but other sections held firm.

Howard Smith had a loss of more than a point. Light selling canceled early gains in Nickel and Smelters. Hudson Bay Mining and Noranda were firmer.

C.P.R., Dosco and Canadian Car preferred displayed minor advances but National Steel Car dipped a point.

Bell Telephone, Shawinigan and Montreal Power were stronger. Dominion Bridge and Steel of Canada showed small additions.

Long Houses Built By Borneo Natives

Borneo is one of the world's large islands. It does not equal Greenland, or New Guinea in size, but it is larger than the state of California.

Borneo is a land of heavy rainfall. If the rain which falls in an average year stayed above the ground, it would flood the island to a depth of 17 feet. Happily the rain sinks into the rich black soil. Along with the sunshine and the soil, it makes plants grow well, and produces one of the thick jungles of the torrid zone.

Many of the brown-skinned people in Borneo are known as "Dyaks." They live away from the coast, and make their living mainly by farming and hunting. The Dyaks build homes which may remind us of the old "long houses" of the Iroquois Indians. A Dyak house may hold three or four dozen families.

Dyaks may speak of "a 30-door house" or "a 50-door house." This is the same as saying that the house is used by 30 or 50 families. Each family has a special door by which to enter. Some of the houses are from 400 to 600 feet long!

It is common in Borneo to build a house on posts. The posts may raise the floor to a height of 10 or 15 feet above the ground. The high-floored homes help to save the people from getting wet when the heavy rains make rivers rise in flood. There is also less work about visits from pythons or other dangerous serpents.

The wild animals of Borneo include the rhino, the wild ox, the deer and several kinds of monkeys and apes. A little animal called the "mouse-deer" has much the shape of a large deer, but is no larger than a jack rabbit. Borneo also has odd flying animals. These include flying foxes, flying lizards and flying frogs. None of these has flapping wings. The "flying" is really gliding, from a high place down to a low place.

Among the other animals are the so-called "tiger-cats." They are not tigers—this island has no tigers. Honey bears, crocodiles, bats and badgers are common. Some of the Borneo birds are of families well-known on our continent—crows, pigeons, woodpeckers and owls.

HOROSCOPE

Friday, May 24
Adverse planetary aspects are active today. There is a benefic sign, however, that is very favorable to labor. Industry should be greatly stimulated.

The stars do not inspire wise love affairs, but may encourage young folk to be reckless in marriages which are economically unsound. The seers emphasize the urgent need of strict economy as an undeviating rule for boys and girls. Housewives are advised to be thrifty in view of war exigencies.

Many merchants and manufacturers will profit through the summer from an increased tourist trade.

Strenuous financial and social upsets resulting from the war will be retarded by peace negotiations but will not be concluded until months have passed. Death will intervene where leaders enjoy power. The next year is to add strange chapters to history, and again the element of surprise is to be especially noted.

Persons whose birthdate it is may expect much good fortune in the coming year. There may be tests to nerves and patience, but they will be worth while.

Children born on this day probably will be systematic and reliable, serious and resourceful. They have the forecast of success in life.

Honor for Dr. Wallace

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Dr. R. C. Wallace, principal of Queen's University, Kingston, was elected president of the Royal Society of Canada at the closing session of the society's annual convention here. He succeeds Dr. H. M. Tory of Ottawa. Both are former presidents of the University of Alberta. Dr. Frederick W. Howay, New Westminster, was elected vice-president.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am the mother of a 14-year old girl and am confronted by a problem which defies every attempt at solution. About two years ago my daughter developed a sudden interest in boys, and I devoted much time and effort to the task of trying to convey to her childish mind the dangerous pitfalls that beset the paths of young girls. I permitted her to accompany neighboring girls to the movies and to church, but this was not enough. Her interest in boys grew and this has gone on until it has become an obsession. Not only this, but when I seek to question her she flares up indignantly and winds up in a tirade and tears. Added to this is the fact that she chooses to associate with boys and girls three or four years her senior. This problem has me baffled and I would appreciate any advice you can give me concerning the matter.

ANSWER: There is nothing the matter with your daughter except that she is 14 and she is going through the boy-crazy period as virtually every girl in the world does. If you will think back, you can remember when you, yourself, had not a single thought in your head that didn't evolve around some pimply-faced lad.

She will recover from it as she did from the measles and the chicken pox and the other childish ailments, and no harm will be done if you will just treat the case wisely.

For one thing, withdraw your objection to boys coming to the house. Invite them in. Make them welcome. For that is the only way in which you can keep her from meeting them on the sly and be sure of what company she is keeping.

Let her have dates on the week-ends and she will not insist on stepping out in the school week. And quit asking her questions. Secretiveness is one of the symptoms of adolescence. It makes the young feel so grown up and independent not to have to tell Mother everything they do.

A RETIRED RESTAURANTEUR IN CITY OF VANCOUVER IS ENDORSING MOSBY'S TONIC

"I Was Surprised at This Medicine," Says Mr. Andrew Nelson; Rheumatic Pains in Legs—Gaseous, Upset Stomach—Was Weak, Worn-out—Bowels Badly Constipated—Now Mosby's Tonic Has Given Him Real Relief

Some of the Leading Druggists of Victoria and throughout this Section now frankly say they have never seen anything like the way Widely-known Local Residents continue to come forward day after day and publicly endorse this New, Scientific Medicine, known as MOSBY'S TONIC, which is now being introduced to crowds daily here in Victoria at the Cunningham Drug Store, Fort and Douglas Streets, by a Special Mosby's Tonic Representative, known as the MOSBY TONIC Man. These are all truthful, sincere testimonials, given by these men and women to help other people who suffer as they did, and all of the statements are Truly Worth Reading. For instance, just a few days ago, Mr. Andrew Nelson, who is a retired restaurateur operator of Vancouver and lives at 85 Cordova Street, West, made the following statement about Mosby's Tonic. Mr. Nelson is 72 years of age and has lived in Vancouver 40 years. He had thousands of friends and acquaintances. Read what he says:

"What Splendid Relief MOSBY'S TONIC Has Given Me! I Feel Better Now Than at Any Time in the Last 5 YEARS" — MR. ANDREW NELSON OF 85 Cordova St., West, Vancouver.

and downhearted man when I finally found Mosby's Tonic, and now I simply rejoice that I did find it, for it turned out to be just what I had always needed. I was surprised at the relief I got, and so quickly, too! It cleared all the gas and bloating from my stomach and now I can enjoy my meals and I never lose sleep from suffering like I did before. It had a fine laxative action on my bowels and regulated them, but best of all, this medicine seemed to drive so much impurities from my system that those rheumatic pains have gone from my legs. That relief alone is worth HUNDREDS OF DOLLARS to me. I feel better now than I have at any time in the last 5 years, and if Mosby's Tonic will do all of that for a man as bad off as I was, then I think it should help other people who suffer like I did, so I gladly come forward with my statement, publicly endorsing this medicine."

It Helps to Clear Away the Poisonous Wastes

MOSBY'S TONIC helps to clear away poisonous wastes from the system in several ways at once—that is, it acts as a carminative, laxative, cholagogue and diuretic all at the same time and helps cleanse bowels, assists Nature to flush excess impurities from kidneys, brings forth gas, and blast from stomach and stimulates flow of liver bile. Many people write us they soon feel like different men and women as a result of this cleansing and invigorating action of Mosby's Tonic. Another thing—due to the immense volume of which it sells, the price of Mosby's Tonic is reasonable. So, don't hesitate. Get Mosby's Tonic—TODAY!

A Special Mosby's Tonic Representative, known as the MOSBY TONIC Man, is now at The CUNNINGHAM DRUG STORE, Fort and Douglas St., Victoria, daily meeting crowds of people and introducing and explaining this New Compound.

Now Rejoices Since He Got Mosby's Tonic

"I tried medicine after medicine for this suffering of mine, but got very little benefit, so I was discouraged

Garcia Defends Title Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—For the third time since he won it last October, Ceferino Garcia lays his world's middleweight title (New York-California version) on the line tonight in a 15-round bout with Ken Overlin of Washington in Madison Square Garden.

Out of the scrap may come two outdoor shows. There is talk of matching the winner with light heavy champion Billy Conn in one of the New York baseball parks during the summer.

Also, there is a possibility that the victor may get a shot at Al Hostak of Seattle, recognized as middleweight king by the National Boxing Association.

COLWOOD WINS

In the interschool series for the Women's Institute Cup, Colwood School basketball team defeated Langford School boys on the latter's floor Tuesday afternoon 29 to 15. L. B. Smith refereed.

Teams: Colwood—Ken Cockton, Arthur Vallis, Hugh Ridley, Pat Peatt, Bob Turner and H. Cooper; Langford—Jack and Ritchie Levesque, Theodore Baynes, Mervyn Brown, F. Clevette and G. Pearce.

Oak Bay Golfers Play at Duncan

Team from the Victoria Golf Club will travel to Duncan on Sunday for the first half of the annual interclub match against players from the Cowichan Club.

The Oak Bay team will be as follows: Walter Newcombe, Wally Bowden, C. I. Mackenzie, G. P. Melrose, H. B. Combe, A. H. Ford, J. Macdonald, Capt. O. Cox, Jack Rithet and H. C. Morris.

The second half will be played at Oak Bay on June 23.

Four Qualify For Speed Run

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The assured starting field for the Indianapolis motor speedway 500-mile race May 30 increased to 16 yesterday as Kelly Petillo and Sam Hanks, both of Los Angeles; George Barringer, of Wichita Falls, Tex., and Harry McQuinn of Indianapolis qualified for the speed classic.

Petillo, a former winner of the race, wheeled his own four-cylinder mount around the track at a speed of 125.331 miles an hour, to win the inside position in the fifth row.

Sitting alongside Petillo in the fifth row will be Hanks, a new-comer to the Indianapolis track. Piloting a car entered by Leon Duray, a former driver, Hanks reeled off 10 miles at 123.064 miles an hour.

The third man in the fifth row will be McQuinn, driving a car entered by big Bill White of Los Angeles. McQuinn got his speedster up to 122.485 miles an hour for the four-lap test.

Barringer won the inside spot in the sixth row with a speed of 121.889.

Swiss See Border Cleared of Troops

BASEL (AP)—Germany and France, apparently putting all the strength they can spare into the battle in the west, have withdrawn almost all of their motorized veteran divisions from the Swiss frontier.

Villages on both the German and French sides of the border, which were packed with troops last week-end, are now empty. Advances reaching Switzerland indicated also that the Nazis and the Allies had withdrawn many protecting troops which had checkmated each other in the Maginot Line-Westwall regions.

Stop-war Candidate Snomed Under

LONDON (CP)—"Stop the war" candidates for Parliament continue to receive rough treatment from the British electors.

Eight of them who have contested by-elections since Hitler plunged Europe into war last September polled so few votes that they lost their deposits.

The eighth among them—and the third member of Sir Oswald Mosley's British Union Fascist Party—was Frederick Haslam, who drew only 418 votes in yesterday's Middleton and Prestwich by-election.

The victor is Lieut. Ernest Gates, Conservative, who polled 32,036 votes. The vacancy was caused by the death of Sir Nairne Stewart-Sandeman, Conservative, who in the 1935 general election polled 27,369 votes, against 17,398 for a candidate of the Labor Party, which did not contest the by-election in accord with the wartime political truce.

Loose Talkers Warned in Court

FOLKESTONE, Eng. (CP)—As a result of the drive against loose talking on military affairs, Peter Laurence Wagstaffe, 26-year-old Canadian, and Peter Roberts, young Englishman, both former members of the Royal Air Force, appeared in court today charged with communicating information which might be useful to the enemy.

The magistrate dismissed the case, saying he hoped the men had learned it is unwise to discuss publicly secret matters.

A detective testified he had arrested the pair when he heard them talking in a public about signals used in landing aircraft.

Edmonton Grads In Clean Sweep

EDMONTON (CP)—Edmonton Grads last night scored their third straight victory over Wichita (Kansas) Thurston's, 37 to 28, to sweep the three-game total-point exhibition women's basketball series 139 to 95.

Grads won the opener Saturday night 52 to 34 and took the second game Monday 50 to 33.

After a ragged start which left the count 7 to 5 for Wichita at the end of the first quarter, the visitors capitalized on scoring chances early in the second to cut down on the wide margin made by the Grads in the first two games.

Then their lead disappeared as the Edmonton team staged a determined comeback which netted them 11 points in quick succession. The score was 17 to 15 at half time.

Checking closely and making their shots count, Grads widened their lead to 28 to 19 in the third quarter, and then matched the visitors basket for basket in the last 10 minutes.

SMALL CROWD

Playing before a small crowd and in sultry heat, neither team showed the fire and speed they had displayed in the earlier games. Shooting accuracy of both squads was below average with Grads registering on 14 out of 47 field shots tried for 29.7 per cent, and Thurston on 11 out of 58 for 18.9 per cent.

Delores Mohr of the Wichita team was the outstanding player on the floor, scoring seven field goals for half of her team's points. Etta Dann led the Grads attack with nine points.

Teams and scores follow: Edmonton—Northrup 6, Munton-McCloy 7, Bowden 2, Dann 9, MacRitchie, Brown 6, Gallen, Williamson 7; total 37.

Wichita—Woodman, Smith 5, Graham, Friesen 4, McConaughy 3, Ott 2, Mohr 14; total 28.

Referee: Bill Douglas and Ed Tomick, both of Edmonton.

Tommy Musgrave Will Pitch Here

VANCOUVER—Jimmy McKissock, manager of Bob Brown's Vancouver Athletics, scheduled to meet Victoria All-Stars in a twin-bill series at the British Columbia capital tomorrow, yesterday announced that Tommy Musgrave and Roy Holden will make the trip with the Athletics. Musgrave, a former Victoria pitcher, was recently released by the Vancouver Capilano of the Western International League, after working on the hurling staff for three seasons. Holden is also well known to Victorians, having pitched there last season against House of David. Musgrave will work one of the games for the Vancouver club.

Over calm waters, under peaceful skies, but in ominous array, Italy's navy steams across the Mediterranean, which Premier Mussolini calls "Mare Nostrum"—"Our Sea." Allies met Italy's unexpected "spring manoeuvres" with quick concentration of large naval forces at strategic Mediterranean points.
